Mr. Warner offered the following resolution:

Whereas, There are in the northern portion of the state five (5) large government reservoirs discharging their waters into the Mississippi River, the same being under the immediate direction, management and control of the Secretary of War; and

Whereas, The rules and regulations promulgated by the War Department more than thirty (30) years ago have been unchanged and are in full force and effect, and provide that waters shall be stored in said reservoirs until the full capacity of the same has been reached, unless the water is needed below said reservoirs for navigation purposes; and

Whereas, Said rules and regulations were promulgated at a time when the section of the state immediately tributary to said reservoirs and along the stretches of the Mississippi River below said reservoirs was occupied by Indians, hunters, trappers and lumbermen; and

Whereas, Under the rules promulgated and the management thereunder, water in said reservoirs has been raised from eight (8) to sixteen (16) feet above the natural high water mark of the lakes in the reservoir system, resulting in the flooding of meadows, the drowning out of natural wild rice beds, the rendering of many thousands of rich agricultural land valueless, and making drainage of surrounding lands exceedingly difficult and retarding the growth and development of one of the best sections of our state; and

Whereas, The holding of water in said reservoirs until the full capacity is reached, during a long period of unusual precipitation might and probably would result in said reservoir system being powerless to hold back flood waters, or to serve in any manner the great agricultural interests along the Mississippi River below said reservoirs,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the State of Minnesota, that our Representatives in Congress be and they are hereby requested to endeavor to secure a change in the rules and regulations for the management and control of said reservoir system, that will be in the interests of the rich agricultural section of the state adjacent to said reservoirs, and that will permit at least twenty-five (25) per cent of the capacity of said reservoirs to be conserved and used for the purpose of serving the agricultural interests and preventing floods; be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be, and he is hereby instructed to mail a copy of this resolution to each of the Senators and Representatives in Congress from the State of Minnesota.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Warner, from the Special Committee appointed to investigate an alleged combination of bridge contractors, makes the following report:

Hon. H. H. Flowers,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sir: Pursuant to the resolution adopted by the House on March 4th, providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate an alleged combination of bridge contractors, and the subsequent action of the Speaker of the House in appointing the undersigned as such committee, we respectfully submit the following report:

At no time in the history of the state has there been so widespread interest in the public highways, and at no time has there been so much money expended thereon. If this generosity upon the part of the taxpayers is to be continued, it is of the highest importance that there be a fair return for the money expended; important to the taxpayers as a matter of justice; important to the public who use the roads; and important to those who have the welfare and development of our state at heart. With the exception of our public schools, there is perhaps no subject of legislation in which all the people are so intimately and closely connected, as that concerning the public highways of our state.

When we stop to consider that there are in Minnesota upon the public highways about 20,000 bridges, being one in each four and one-half miles, estimated to have cost $40,000,000, we begin to realize the large amount involved in bridge construction; and when we consider that in the next twenty years, it will be necessary to replace most of these bridges, as well as to construct very many others, at an aggregate expense estimated at $50,000,000, we begin to grasp the importance to the taxpayers of keeping this work out of the hands of a monopoly or combination of contractors.

This committee has not called any bridge contractors as witnesses. We did not believe they could be expected to convict themselves. We early decided that we did not wish to be a muck-raking committee, and that we were more concerned in the future than with the past. We believed our efforts should be confined more largely to remedying the evil, if one exists, than to denouncing those who may have been engaged in questionable business practices with township, village, city and county authorities. We, therefore, pursued the inquiry as to the alleged combination just far enough to satisfy ourselves that there is such an understanding or combination among certain bridge contractors, though such combination is not as general throughout the state as three or four years ago. In fact, an officer of one of the large bridge companies operating in the state freely admitted that a few years ago, there was such a combination, but claimed that there is no such combination at the present time. We are, however, of the opinion that the combination still exists wherever local conditions will permit. Local boards and officers are often imposed upon and lead to believe there is fair and open competition, when as a matter of fact, bids submitted are "dummy bids" or "straw bids," except the bid of the company to whom contract is awarded.

A specific instance of this kind of work is furnished the committee by the Auditor of Itasca County, who wrote the committee in part as follows: "I find, from a search of the records in this office and by interviews with members of the board of county commissioners of Itasca County, that the commissioners are well satisfied with the bids that were received from the various bridge builders during the past two years." To prove that there is fair and open competition, the auditor then proceeded to give a list of the bids which were submitted for the construction of six bridges in his county on August 26, 1913, and which were all awarded to the Hennepin Bridge Company of Minneapolis. It did not seem to strike the auditor as being peculiar that this particular company was low bidder on each of the six bridges, or did it occur to him to look up the competitive bidders, who were:

North Star Bridge Co., Twin City Bridge Co., Massillon Bridge Co., Western Bridge Construction Co., and C. G. Sedgwick.

This committee does not hesitate to assert that the bids submitted on these bridges, other than the bids of the Hennepin Bridge Company, were "straw bids," and submitted for the purpose of giving the impression that there was fair and open competition. As far as this committee is able to discover, the North Star Bridge Company, Twin City Bridge Company, Massillon Bridge Company, Western Bridge Construction Company, and C. G. Sedgwick combined, constructed less than a dozen bridges in the state during the last four years. Practically all bridge work in Itasca County has been done by the Hennepin Bridge Company, and information received from reliable sources in the county, is to the effect that it is generally believed this territory has been allotted to that company.

It is rather significant that during the last two years, all contracts for bridges in Aitkin County costing in excess of $500.00 have been awarded to the Minneapolis Bridge Company; while in Norman County they have all been awarded to the Security Bridge Company of Minneapolis; in Wilkin County they have all been awarded to the Great Northern Bridge Company; and in McLeod and Wabasha Counties they have all been awarded to the M. A. Adams Bridge Company.

This committee has received communications from a large number of county auditors, in reference to this alleged combination of bridge contractors, and we quote therefrom as follows:

Hon. H. J. Welte, Auditor of Polk County, says:

"It has been our experience that in nearly all cases the bidding on bridge work has not shown the competition that it should have. It has not happened in many cases that there was no competition at all, but when a number of bidders were present, almost invariably the same company was the lowest bidder. As we understand it, in other counties some other member of the same list of bidders would get nearly all the bridges there. It appears that the work is divided into districts in this way, so that there would be very little competition."

Hon. C. L. Kennedy, Auditor of Blue Earth County, says:

"I feel sure that a few years ago there was a combine of the bridge contractors. No one but the Hennepin Bridge Company ever "happened" to be the lowest bidder in this county."

Hon. S. A. Brown, Auditor of Cottonwood County, says:

"On the larger bridges in this county for a number of years the same company seems to have been the lowest bidder and to have gotten the contract. It has been the opinion generally of the county board as well as most of the township boards, that some kind of a combination existed between the bridge contractors, but it always seemed almost impossible to avoid the existing conditions. The county has a number of times rejected all bids and re-advertised and sometimes have been able to lower the former bid, but usually the lowest bidder of the previous letting was the one who got the job."

Hon. A. V. Sanders, Auditor of Kanabec County, writes as follows:

"No bridges were let during the last two years except by day labor contract. Prior to this, it is noticeable that the Security Bridge Company of Minneapolis were always the lowest bidders and contract awarded to them. Every bridge let on contract since I commenced as Deputy Auditor were let to the above mentioned bridge company. It seems to be an accepted fact that bridge companies do make combines."

Hon. T. A. Bailey, Auditor of Pipestone County, writes:

"Will say that in the past three or four years this county has not let any contracts for bridges for the reason that it was impossible to get what we considered a fair bid. I could not make the direct statement that the bridge contractors are in a combination, but myself as well as the county board are fairly well convinced in our own minds that such is the case."

Hon. J. A. Stennes, Auditor of Chippewa County, writes:

"While positive proof is lacking, we have always understood that there was a tacit agreement between the different bridge companies, and that the state was divided into territories in which the particular companies should get the jobs, although the rest usually met and submitted bids. However, since at present all our plans are made by the Highway Commission and we have an engineer on the job, we have in nearly every case had independent bidders."

Hon. A. G. Shogren, Auditor of Lac Qui Parle County, writes the committee:

"It has seemed by the way things have gone in this county, as if there were some understanding among bridge men as to who was to have the contracts for bridges in this county. One man has received the contracts for erecting nearly every bridge in this county for the last twenty years or more. The last two or three years, there seems to have been some competition at bridge lettings, but before that there did not seem to be any. Three bridges have been let to new concerns the last two years at competitive lettings, but before that time it seems that even when there were other bids submitted, the lowest one was always that of the party who had usually built the bridges here."

Hon. Theo. Peterson, Auditor of Waseca County, writes:

"Up to the time that we commenced to construct concrete bridges under the supervision of the highway commission, we seemed to be at the mercy of the large bridge companies. A certain firm then known as A. Y. Bayne & Co., built our bridges for probably twenty years. There always seemed to be a lot of competition and a number of bidders, but when everything was over, this firm was the lowest bidder, and it always appeared to me that they were in collusion. Since we got away from the big concerns, our work has been done to a great extent by local people. Last year it was all done by local people, they outbidding outside competition."

Hon. J. L. Johnson, Auditor of Renville County, says:

"You ask me if I think that the bridge men of this state have apportioned the counties to the various bridge companies. Will answer the same by saying 'Yes.' I don't think that there is any question about it whatever. There is every ear mark possible, except the absolute proof of it. Our understanding is that a certain Minneapolis company is supposed to have the northern half of the county and another one the southern half of the county. The county board with my assistance have worked hard to break it up, and we have succeeded to a large extent."

Hon. John Boss, Auditor of Wabasha County, writes the committee:

"After looking up past contracts for bridge construction and past bids on same, I note that one bridge company has done about all the work, said company was first, the Hewitt Bridge Company; later the Security Bridge Company, and I am informed that since an agent named Butler changed from the Security Bridge Company to the M. A. Adams, that the bridges have all been bought of the M. A. Adams Bridge Company. When I questioned a former auditor (cautiously), he told me the more bids you advertised for, the more the bridge would cost you, and it seemed that one company regardless of the number of bids or attempts to secure new bids, would have each time the lowest bid and eventually secure the contract."

The conditions that prevail in Minnesota are not peculiar to this state. Under date of March 31, 1915, the state engineer of an adjoining state wrote this committee in part as follows: "According to information that I have received from various sources, this is about how the bridge trust has been managing affairs in this state up to the present time. The leading contractors enter into an agreement or have an understanding. They apportion the counties among themselves, and when bids are called for, the contractor who "owns" that county, submits the lowest bid, which is very much higher than it should be. The other contractors, just to make the thing look good, submit higher bids. Then the successful bidder pays the others enough to cover their expenses in submitting a bid. If a local so-called "butter in" submits a lower bid than the contractor who "owns" the county, a friendly Board of County Commissioners or of supervisors will reject all bids and call for new ones. Then the favored contractor submits a low bid and gets the contract. After he gets it the plans are changed to provide for additions, upon which a handsome profit may be made."

Only a few years ago the combine of bridge contractors became so notorious in the State of Ohio that quite a number of individuals and bridge companies were indicted by the grand jury of Lima, Ohio, on the charge of "conspiracy against trade." Convictions followed. The cases were carried to the Supreme Court and were affirmed by that Court.

The Engineering News, commenting upon this case said: "A bridge pooling prosecution in the State of Ohio ended June 12th with pleas of guilty by eight bridge construction companies to the charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade. The prosecution was directed against a highway bridge 'pool' of a kind that has long prevailed in the business of building county and town road bridges. The 'pool' contemplated the attendance of agents of some or all of the several companies at each letting at which the job would be awarded to one of the members in accordance with systematic allotment of work, and adjustment of the several bids to suit. The bids being thus based on a secret understanding, they were made high enough to yield a normal profit to the company to whom the work was allotted and in addition yield a fixed amount to each of the other companies in attendance."

There was also a prosecution of the bridge combine in Illinois, convictions secured and fines aggregating $7,000 paid. Louis H. Burrell, who conducted the prosecution, under date of October 21, 1914, wrote in part as follows: "The American Bridge Company incorporated under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and covering practically all of the bridge companies in the West, had a regular pool agreement fixing the amounts to be paid to each concern which appeared at bridge lettings, and providing that the successful bidder should pay to the others stipulated amounts, and providing a schedule or scale of amounts to be so paid. As a result of these prosecutions the bridge companies subdivided themselves and in 1905 the bridge concerns in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and possibly some other states, had a contractors' pooling agreement whereby the territory in Illinois was parcelled out and it was known before hand who was to be the successful bidder in that territory upon each letting. A scale of pools was agreed upon to be paid to bidders who appeared at lettings for the purpose of making it appear that the letting was competitive. In this county I made a careful investigation of the records for a period of ten years, and it showed that the lettings all went to one concern; that the other bridge concerns had had representatives present, but in each instance bid higher than the concern to whom this territory was parcelled."

In the Fifteenth Biennial Report of the State Engineer of Colorado for 1909 and 1910, there appears the following: "For years there has existed a recognized pool among highway bridge contractors who divide the state into districts and allot one district to each contractor. Although there is a semblance of competitive bidding whenever a bridge is advertised, the low bidder in each such competition (?) is known in advance to the members of the pool and the others place their bids above his figure."

The State Highway Commission and the Bridge Contractors.

There appears to be considerable friction between the engineers of the State Highway Commission and representatives of bridge contractors. A few years ago nearly all plans and specifications for bridges were furnished by the bridge companies, and at a letting of a single bridge contract, it was not unusual for half a dozen different plans to be submitted by as many different companies. There is no question but what bridge companies prefer this plan, or that it works to the disadvantage of the purchasers of bridges. It leads to confusion, as plans and specifications presented by the bridge companies are often indefinite, loosely drawn and uncertain. We believe, too, that the Highway Commission has been insisting upon the construction of a better class of bridges than were formerly built. This has somewhat increased the price paid for bridges, and has subjected the commission to criticism, and the bridge contractors have not been slow to take advantage of it. In fact, there is some evidence that much of the agitation against the State Highway Commission has been fostered, encouraged and promoted by interested bridge contractors. Formerly, there was no adequate inspection of bridge work while under construction. We believe the inspection made by the state is in the interest of the taxpayers of the state, and should be continued. Where the interest of the taxpayers and contractors conflict, it is easy to understand why the public official, who stands for the taxpayers, gains the enmity of the contractor.

These bridge contractors or their representatives are constantly coming in contact with village, township and county boards, and with the public generally, and it is an easy matter for them to suggest that the plans of the Highway Commission are too elaborate, that they call for the expenditure of too much money, that too much power has been taken from the local boards and is vested in this state commission, and that it would be a fine thing to return to the old system, and do away with all state control or supervision. There has been an opportunity to work up sentiment along this line, and it has not been entirely neglected.

Bridges constructed under the supervision of the State Highway Commission during the last three or four years have cost more money than formerly, and are worth it. They are designed and planned to last and stand for many years to come. Bridge contractors have nothing particular to lose by the construction of bridges that will require to be replaced within a few years. One reason why bridges constructed under plans, specifications and inspection of the State Highway Commission have cost more, is because in some cases longer bridges have been required, than were the old bridges that were replaced, or than local boards considered necessary. Whether a bridge is 40-foot or 60-foot does not make a very great difference in the cost of the bridge, but it does make a large difference in the amount of water than can pass away underneath. During the heavy freshets of 1914, there were a large number of bridges in Rock, Stevens and other counties that were washed away and largely because the spans were too short and insufficient vent given the water. It is interesting to note in passing, that of the bridges damaged by the floods of that year, there were but three bridges that had been constructed under the plans and specifications of the State Highway Commission.

The Remedy—Recommendations.

To assist in remedying the evil which we believe exists this committee has had prepared and has introduced H. F. No. 1130 and H. F. No. 1131, to which we invite your attention.

H. F. No. 1130 permits town, village, city and county boards, by resolution duly adopted, to make the State Highway Commission their agent for the purchase of bridge material. There are several reasons for this. It is fair to suppose that steel and cement for several hundred bridges can be purchased at a lower price if purchased under one contract by the state, than it can be purchased in small quantities by the different counties and municipalities. If there are to be 100 bridges constructed requiring 50-foot spans, the steel can be fabricated at one time by one rolling mill or foundry, and the work done more economically and at less price than under the present system. Is there any good reason why the cement that enters into bridge construction should not be purchased by the state direct from the manufacturer instead of the counties and municipalities being compelled to pay a profit on the same to the manufacturer, the wholesaler, the local dealer and to the contractor who constructs the bridge?

There is an even more important reason that may be advanced for the favorable consideration of this bill. From information gathered during this investigation, we are convinced that the most effective competition contractors in the bridge combine have is the local contractor. These local contractors are not always able to secure bridge material. Several instances have been called to our attention where local contractors claimed they were unable to secure steel or that they were unable to compete with bridge companies in the combine because they could not purchase the material at as low a figure as those on the inside. We are satisfied that the purchase of the material by the authorities constructing bridges under the provisions of this bill or otherwise, and then advertising for bids for the erection of the bridge will give local contractors a much better opportunity and result in greatly increased competition and lower prices. In the counties where the combination has been broken up, it has been largely due to the local bidders. We earnestly recommend that if this bill should not pass, county and town boards advertise for bids for material and for construction separately, and if this is done, we are thoroughly convinced that it will go a long way towards breaking up the combine.

If steel for a large number of bridges is fabricated by one rolling mill or foundry, to be shipped upon requisition later, it can all be inspected and stamped at one time, lessening the cost of inspection.

If this bill should pass and a considerable number of municipalities and counties elect to take advantage of its provisions and place their orders for material in the late fall or early winter, it would also have a tendency to reduce prices, as this is a time of year when fabricating work is usually slack and when orders are eagerly sought.

The committee realizes that this bill advances a new proposition and owing to lack of time for consideration, it may not appeal to the good judgment of the House. But should it become law and be generally used, we believe it will effectively dispose of the bridge combine and save many thousand dollars to the taxpayers of the state.

House File No. 1131 provides, that where the cost of any bridge to be constructed is $500 or more, a copy of the published advertisement of the letting shall be mailed to the State Highway Commission at least twenty days before the date of such letting, and that the Highway Commission shall print lists of such bridge lettings, and furnish the same to interested parties upon application. We believe this will result in largely increased publicity, at a minimum cost to the taxpayers, and it will make a place where interested contractors can apply and secure a list of every bridge letting in the state. We recommend, that as far as possible in transmitting the published advertisements of the bridge letting to the State Highway Commission, that plans and specifications of the proposed bridge accompany the same.

We recommend that as far as possible in the inspection work of 1915 and 1916, the State Highway Commission give the preference to bridge construction.

We recommend that all bridges be constructed under plans and specifications prepared by some competent engineer and not by the bridge companies; that bids submitted and contracts entered into be in the standard form prepared by the Attorney General of the state for the State Highway Commission.

We recommend that sufficient copies of this report be printed to supply one copy to each county auditor, county attorney, county commissioner and township clerk, and that the same be forwarded to the respective county auditors for distribution.

This committee has made an unbiased, impartial investigation of the subject entrusted to it by the House, and from the information secured, we are convinced that if local boards will make an honest effort to conform to the recommendations contained in this report, it will result in saving many thousand dollars to the taxpayers of the state.

On motion of Mr. Peterson, A. M., the House took a recess to 1:30 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House reconvened at 1:30 P. M.

Mr. Larimore, from the Committee on Judiciary, to which was referred,

H. F. No. 266, A bill for an act to amend Chapter one hundred and three (103) of the Laws of Minnesota for 1909, relating to banking.

Reports the same back with the recommendation that it is the opinion of the Judiciary Committee that only a majority vote of the Legislature is required to pass this bill.

MINORITY REPORT.

We, the undersigned members of the Judiciary Committee, submit the following minority report on,

H. F. No. 266, A bill for an act to amend Chapter one hundred and three (103) of the Laws of Minnesota for 1909, relating to banking.

Recommend that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

And give the following reasons for the position we take in making our minority report:

H. F. No. 266 was introduced by Mr. Erickson February 1st, and referred to the Committee on Banks and Banking.

February 8th, the bill was reported back from the committee with recommendation that the bill do pass.

February 17th, the bill was taken up on General Orders, in Committee of the Whole, and recommended to pass; and on the same day the bill was excepted from the report of the Committee of the Whole and Mr. Adams moved to place the bill on the Calendar.

Mr. Knutson moved to amend and that H. F. No. 266 be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Erickson moved a call of the House.

Mr. Warner moved the previous question, which motion prevailed.

The question was then taken on the amendment of Mr. Knutson, as to indefinite postponement of the bill, and the roll being called there were yeas 53 and nays 66, so the amendment was lost.

The question was then taken as to placing H. F. No. 266 on the Calendar, which motion prevailed.

February 19th, Mr. Erickson moved that H. F. No. 266 be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, and retain its place on the Calendar, which motion prevailed.

The act referring the bill to the Judiciary Committee was the act of the House, and not of the Speaker. That at the time of referring the bill to the Judiciary Committee, nor at any other time, was any specific instructions given to the Judiciary Committee. The Judiciary Committee cannot assume or take upon itself any rights in relation to the bill not conferred upon it by the House.

No specific instructions having been conferred or given, the only action that the Judiciary Committee could properly take would be to recommend the bill for passage, to indefinite postponement, return to its author or return it to the House without recommendation.

The committee could not, under any rule of the House, or under any authority of law take upon itself the arbitrary right to instruct the Speaker and members of the House as to the number of votes it will take to carry the bill.

The Judiciary Committee are not the legal advisers of the Speaker nor the members of the House. The legal adviser of the members of the House and the Speaker is the Attorney General, who has advised them as to the number of votes required under the law to pass the bill.

We therefore object to and protest against the majority report, as it has a tendency to have an undue influence over the members of the House.

L. M. Davis,
John A. Boyd,
A. M. Peterson,
P. H. Konzen.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Report from Committee of Public Accounts and Expenditures:

St. Paul, April 8th, 1915.

To the Honorable Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives, 39th Legislative Session.

On the 15th day of March, 1915, the following resolution was introduced by Hon. Thos. Girling of Hennepin County:

“Whereas, there has been placed in my hands an affidavit properly signed and sworn to, charging gross irregularities and violation of the law by the Delavan Condensed Milk Company, Resolved, That the papers in connection with these charges be referred to the Committee on Public Accounts and Expenditures for investigation.”

In accordance with that resolution, your Committee of Public Accounts and Expenditures made an investigation, the results of which are hereby submitted, together with the original affidavit in which the charges of one Robert John Rothwell are set forth. In brief the report of your committee is as follows:

In the matter of the affidavit of Robert John Rothwell referred to the Committee of Public Accounts and Expenditures relating to the resolution introduced by Hon. Thos. H. Girling, 36th Legislative District, Minnesota, on March 15th. The said affidavit of Robert John Rothwell alleges among other things:

That a certain label marked “Exhibit A” was submitted to the Dairy and Food Department by the Delavan Condensed Milk Co., of Chicago, Ill., to the State Pure Food Department of Minnesota, and that said label on its face disclosed a non-compliance with the requirements of the law. No proof was presented to sustain the above allegation, neither was there any date of month or year offered in proof thereof. The Dairy and Food Department deny that the alleged label was ever submitted to them by the Delavan Condensed Milk Company, or by any other person, firm or corporation, for a decision as to its legality. The records of the Dairy and Food Department disclose that on February 18th, 1913, a sample of Beauty Brand milk manufactured by the Delavan Condensed Milk Company was purchased from Andrew Hankowsky, Minneapolis, Minn., by Inspector Moriarity and was delivered at the State Laboratory to be analyzed by the State Chemist, whose report on same was that it was slightly below standard in butter fat and solid and classed illegally. Andrew Hankowsky was notified on April 2, 1913, that the said Beauty Brand milk was illegal. The records disclose that the Beauty Brand milk was returned by Andrew Hankowsky to the wholesaler from whom he purchased. No prosecution was offered on said milk for the reason that it was a first offense and for the further reason that in a product such as evaporated milk a reasonable tolerance is permitted in all food products.

It is further alleged in said affidavit of Robert John Rothwell that said milk under a corrupt arrangement between said company and said department was entered into, which permitted said milk to be sold in Minnesota in violation of the law. No proof was offered in support of said allegation. The Dairy and Food Department by its records refer to the fact that no further examination of Beauty milk was made until some time during the month of June, 1914, and that the Delavan Milk Company was notified that their Beauty Brand was illegal, on or about July third or fifth. The Delavan Condensed Milk Company, under date of July 6th, 1914, acknowledged receipt of the notice referred to on three samples of Beauty milk, which was part of the correspondence submitted to the investigating committee, wherein it was stated that said company does not know in just what way they are failing to comply with the Minnesota law. On July 30th, 1914, the Delavan Condensed Milk Company were notified by the Dairy and Food Department in what manner their product was not labelled to meet the requirements of the law. (See correspondence under date of July 30th, by the Assistant Commissioner of the Dairy and Food Department.) Sometime thereafter, Mr. H. N. Clark, Chicago, president of the Delavan Condensed Milk Co., together with the brokerage firm of Minrath & Young, of Minneapolis, Minn., called at the department and requested time to relabel or remove their products from the state. This was granted by the Assistant Commissioner, who informed them that said milk must in addition to having the label of contents thereon, bear the words "Second Grade," as indicated in the correspondence of July 30th, 1913. They were given thirty days to remove such product from the market and in addition thereto were informed that the inspectors of the department would be instructed to aid them in that purpose, namely, where they found on sale by the retail trade, said State Inspectors instructed said retailers to return the said Beauty Brand milk to the wholesaler or jobber from whom purchased, declaring that it was illegal and that the Delavan Milk Company would accept the same and give them credit or replace said Beauty Brand milk with a legal product. This is the only arrangement that ever was entered into with the Delavan Condensed Milk Company by the Dairy and Food Department of the State of Minnesota and is the usual method adopted by this department for the purpose of removing products from the state which are sold in technical violation of the law and which contain no harmful substance.

It is indicated in the correspondence of Robert John Rothwell that he also was actively engaged in removing the Beauty Brand Milk which was not in compliance with the law, from the State of Minnesota. The statement of Mr. Evans of Chicago was that the Delavan Condensed Milk Co. had spent hundreds of dollars in removing their product from the State of Minnesota. It is further apparent that if they were to be punished that the action of the Dairy and Food Department should be considered sufficient for the offense.

Points made from letters submitted by Mr. Rothwell.

Many of the letters are in a mutilated condition, having no dates, signatures of the writer missing and in some instances only a small portion of the original letter is available. From a study of the laws it would seem that Mr. Clark in his correspondence with Mr. Rothwell says nothing which can be constituted as detrimental to the Dairy and Food Commission. Considerable space is given to explanation of conditions which the Dairy and Food Commission gave the Delavan Condensed Milk Co., in regard to making their product conform with the law. Mr. Clark used such statements in his letters as, "I am very much inclined to think that these notices were sent out while Mr. McCabe was away from his office." "The friendly relation he expressed towards the Delavan Condensed Milk Co., in our last interview." "We are evidently getting a very bad deal from the Food Commissioners in this state, especially that they were to blame for getting us in the position we are in."

"As at the present time we are working on instructions which Mr. McCabe gave us." These phrases and statements considered a part from the letters in which they are contained have an altogether different meaning than when they are considered as part of the general contents of the letter, for in every case what precedes or follows, eliminates all importance that can be attached to these statements.

Points from letters submitted by Mr. Evans of Cheney & Evans, attorneys for Delavan Condensed Milk Co.

"Jan. 20th, 1915, letter from Frank H. Morrill to Mr. H. M. Clark states back salary due Mr. Rothwell and calls close attention to the fact that it is doing business in this state without a license. The letter concludes by saying, "unless you comply with the provisions of our statutes in this regard so as to permit the acquiring of jurisdiction, I shall proceed in the premises."

"Jan. 23rd, 1915. Cheney & Evans answer, repudiating claim of Mr. Rothwell and state that the nature of the business they are doing in this state does not require a license."

"Jan. 25th. Mr. Morrill reiterates that it will be necessary for the company to take out a license in this state."

"Jan. 28. Cheney & Evans reply that they have investigated the matter thoroughly and their findings are to the contrary."

"Feb. 1st. Mr. Morrill replies as follows: Apart from our desire to get our claims within the jurisdiction of our courts, we are not interested whether or not your client is obeying our laws relative to foreign corporations."

"Jan. 15th, 1915. Mr. Rothwell to Mr. H. M. Clarke: One of the most conspicuous members of the Minnesota State Legislature now in session is a man who is almost as near to me as my own father. Justice is going to be triumphant in this matter and I repeat that I will fight this case if it takes the last breath. In whatever way you move I will move and I will leave an awful cloud of dust behind me.

The above data is submitted by your Committee, as it seemed necessary that some definite information should be contained in this report to give a line upon the case so that the House may form a better conception of the entire situation. To recapitulate in brief, the Committee wishes to state that the charges made by one Robert John Rothwell had some substance in fact, namely that the product referred to, shipped into this state by the Delavan Condensed Milk Company was found below grade in that it complied with the government requirements but did not comply with the requirements of the State of Minnesota as to standard. The facts are brought out in the evidence that Mr. McCabe, representing the Pure Food Department of the State, notified the Delavan Condensed Milk Company some time during the year 1913, on or about February 18th, that their product was below grade and must either be removed from the various dealers in the State who were offering it for sale or be marked "second grade" and be sold as such. There was further evidence that after this notification the product remained on the market for a period of nearly eighteen months, during which time considerable correspondence passed between the Delavan Milk Company and the Pure Food Department, the Pure Food Department insisting that the product must be removed or labelled second grade, as above stated. The contention of Mr. Rothwell, the complainant, is that the Pure Food Department did not exercise the authority given them by law to see that such removal was promptly made.

In answer to this the department states that it has been their custom to permit what they call a reasonable time to elapse before insisting absolutely upon the requirements of the law. There is no doubt but that the law might have been enforced earlier had the department seen fit to insist, but Mr. McCabe explains the situation by saying that such custom had prevailed during past years, as had been followed by him in the premises. We are inclined to think that an earlier enforcement of the law should have been made but there is no evidence of any corrupt agreement between the Milk Company and the Pure Food Department. We certainly would recommend to that department that hereafter a more prompt enforcement of the law should be insisted upon and that as soon as evidence is presented that a below grade product is being sold, steps should more promptly be taken to have it withdrawn or re-labeled in compliance with the law.

Respectfully submitted,

Charles L. Sawyer,

Chairman, Committee on Public Accounts and Expenditures.

DELAVAN CONDENSED MILK COMPANY

State of Minnesota, County of Hennepin—ss.

Andrew Hankowsky, being first duly sworn upon oath, says:

That he is a retail grocer, doing business at No. 2025 Washington Avenue South, in the City of Minneapolis, County of Hennepin, and State of Minnesota, and has conducted said business at said address continuously since the first day of January, 1913.

That some time during the earlier part of the year 1913, exact date and month being unknown to affiant, a duly qualified inspector of the State Pure Food Department of Minnesota, entered affiant's said place of business and condemned a product of milk, known as "Beauty Brand Evaporated Milk," manufactured by the Delavan Condensed Milk Company, of Chicago.

That said inspector informed affiant that said milk was illegal because it failed to meet with the requirements of the State Pure Food Laws of Minnesota and notified affiant to discontinue the sale of said brand of milk.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INVESTIGATION OF THE DEHAVAN CONDENSED MILK COMPANY

State of Minnesota, County of Hennepin—ss.

Robert John Rothwell, being first duly sworn, upon oath, says:

That he is a resident of Hennepin County, State of Minnesota, and has been such resident continuously since the first day of January, 1913.

That on or about the month of February 15, 1913, he entered into the employment of the Delavan Condensed Milk Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Illinois as affiant is informed and believes and as such employee solicited sales of a product of said company known as "Beauty Brand Evaporated Milk."

That said milk by virtue of said sales was placed in the wholesale grocery houses and retail grocery stores located in the said State of Minnesota.

That said milk during period from February 15th, or thereabouts, to on or about July 1, 1914, was actually and in fact sold to consumers in the said State of Minnesota.

That said milk contained 7% butter fat, 23.5% total solids. That said milk so sold was in violation of the dairy and food laws of the State of Minnesota then and there in force.

That the label hereto attached and made part hereof and marked "Exhibit A" was put on to the tin cans containing said milk. That said label was submitted by said company to the State Pure Food Department of Minnesota and notwithstanding that the said label on its face disclosed a noncompliance with the requirements of the law, said milk under a corrupt arrangement between said company and said department which affiant is prepared to prove was permitted to be sold on said market in violation of law.

That said company well knew of said noncompliance of said law and its violation thereof, and notwithstanding said knowledge persisted in the actual sale of said illegal goods in and upon the markets of the said State of Minnesota.

Robert John Rothwell.

Reports the same back with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

Strike out all after the enacting clause and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. The council of any city now or hereafter having a population of more than fifty thousand inhabitants, not operating under Section 36, Article 4, of the Constitution of this state, is hereby authorized, unrestricted by any provision of statute or charter, to grant a franchise for the construction, extension, maintenance and operation of street railways in and upon the streets, highways and public grounds within the city, and within any park or parkway heretofore or hereafter acquired by the city within or without the corporate boundaries. But no street railway shall be laid in any park or parkway without the consent of the Board of Park Commissioners or other body charged with the care and maintenance of the park or parkway. No franchise shall be granted under this act except to a corporation organized under the laws of this state and having power to construct, maintain and operate street railways for the common carriage of passengers, nor shall the same, or any interest in the same, ever, for purposes of operation, be assigned or transferred to or owned by any person or corporation except a corporation organized under the laws of this state having the powers aforesaid. And in case of any assignment or transfer to, or ownership by, any such domestic corporation, all privileges and immunities contained in such franchise, as well as all obligations imposed thereby, shall pass to and be enjoyed by and be binding upon such assignee, transferee or owner. The franchise may provide for the operation of suburban cars over the tracks of the company. This act shall not be construed to authorize the extension of any existing contract or franchise.

Any such franchise shall not be granted hereunder for more than thirty (30) years in the first instance, and shall contain an option on the part of any such city to purchase the entire street railway property at the end of each five (5) or ten (10) year period of such term and at the expiration of such term of the franchise, and thereafter at the expiration of any five year period, upon giving one (1) year's written notice to the owners of said railway of the city's intention to purchase said street railway property. The franchise may provide that upon failure of any such city to condemn or exercise such option to purchase at or before the expiration of the franchise said franchise shall without further act continue until terminated by purchase or condemnation of the property, but not exceeding thirty (30) years or such lesser period as the franchise may fix. The term of any such franchise may begin at the expiration of a now existing franchise, and the new franchise may, in the discretion of the council, be granted to the holder of an old or existing franchise, provided such holder is a Minnesota corporation having the powers aforesaid. The reservation of any such option to purchase on the part of any such city shall not prevent resort to eminent domain. The franchise shall terminate at time of purchase or condemnation of the entire plant and properties.

The term "council" as used in this act shall include the chief governing body of the city by whatever name known. The word "may" shall nowhere in this act be construed as "shall."

Section 2. The franchise may embrace an agreement fixing fares and shall provide for compensation to the city in the form of a division of surplus earnings, amortization or otherwise. The council shall have power to regulate reasonably construction and operation and may, from time to time require reasonable improvements and service. The council shall have power to fix in said franchise, the terms and conditions upon which it may require extensions. Any agreement fixing fares shall not exceed the period of thirty (30) years. Any agreement fixing fares may provide for different fares at different times or under varying circumstances. In the absence of an agreement fixing fares and upon the expiration of any agreement fixing fares, the council shall have power to fix a reasonable fare. The power of regulation herein granted shall not be contracted away. The power of regulation may be exercised by ordinance, with penalty by fine and imprisonment in case of violation and regulations may be enforced by mandamus, injunction or other appropriate civil action.

Section 3. For the purpose of fixing a basis for the purchase price of the property and for a division of surplus earnings, a physical valuation of the property shall, in case of a grant to a company already having a street railway property, be made either before the granting of the franchise and incorporated therein, or at the beginning of the term of the franchise. The valuation may include a fair going concern value but shall not include any franchise or good will value. The franchise may provide for increasing such valuation by additions and improvements and decreasing it by depreciation alienation and loss of properties. Additional provisions may be made in the franchise for making the valuation.

Section 4. The holder of the franchise shall file with the city clerk annual reports by the corporation, from the beginning of the franchise until its termination, of receipts and disbursements, inventories, stock and bond issues, and there shall be an annual inspection by the city of all property, books, accounts, records, checks, vouchers, contracts and documents of the corporation, and such further inspection thereof by the city as the franchise may provide.

Section 5. The holder of the franchise shall not sell, dispose of or pledge any shares of its capital stock, or issue any certificates therefor, for less than ninety-five per cent (95%) of their par value nor until such shares shall have been paid for in money, nor issue any bonds, except for money to the market value of the bonds, not, however, less than ninety per cent (90%) of the par value thereof. The proceeds of all stocks and bonds shall be devoted to the lawful purposes of the holder under such franchise.

Section 6. The power to grant a franchise under this act shall be exercised only by ordinance adopted by a majority of all the members of the council at a regular meeting, and the ayes and nays shall be entered in the minutes. The vote on the final passage of the ordinance shall not be taken until the expiration of at least fourteen (14) days after the publication of the proposed ordinance in its final form in the official newspaper of the city. The corporation shall have such time as may be fixed by the ordinance, not less than thirty (30) days after final passage and publication, in which to accept. Acceptance shall be first authorized by the Board of Directors of the corporation and a copy of the resolution authorizing such acceptance shall be filed with the acceptance in the office of the city clerk. The grant shall be fully effective when made and accepted as aforesaid, and ratified as provided in the next section.

Section 7. No such franchise shall be effective until it shall have been ratified by a majority of the votes of the electors of the city cast upon the question at a general or special election not less than ninety (90) days after the filing of the acceptance of the franchise. The franchise shall provide for such submission.

Section 8. For the purpose of raising funds for making the valuation provided for in Section 3, the Council is hereby authorized to issue and sell bonds of the city to an amount not exceeding fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars in par value. Said bonds shall be issued only in pursuance of a resolution adopted by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of a city council or other governing body of such city. The faith and credit of the city shall be pledged to the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon. The council or governing body aforesaid shall include in the tax levy of each year an amount sufficient to pay the current interest on such bonds, and the sinking fund of the city shall be pledged to their redemption at maturity.

Bonds issued under this act shall not run for a term longer than thirty years or bear a rate of interest higher than four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. The place of payment of principal and interest, and the denominations of said bonds, shall be fixed by the resolution authorizing their issue, and all or any of them may be in the form of coupon bonds or of registered certificates, so-called, as the purchaser may prefer.

All bonds or certificates so issued shall be signed by the mayor, attested by the city clerk, and countersigned by the city comptroller of such city, and be sealed with the city seal; except that the signatures to the coupons attached thereto, if any, may be lithographed. None of such obligations shall be sold at less than ninety-five per cent (95%) of their par value and accrued interest, or to any but the highest responsible bidder therefor."

Section 9. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Amend the title of H. F. No. 943 so that said title shall read as follows:

A bill for an act to authorize the city council or other governing body of any city now or hereafter having a population of more than fifty thousand inhabitants not operating under section 36, article 4, of the constitution of this state, to grant a franchise for the construction, extension, maintenance and operation of street railways in and upon the streets, highways and public grounds thereof, as well as in parks and parkways of the city inside or outside its boundaries and authorizing the issuance of bonds to carry out the provisions of this act.

SPECIAL REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC ACCOUNTS AND EXPENDITURES.

April 8, 1915.

To the Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives,
39th Legislative Session:

The Committee on Public Accounts and Expenditures, whose duty it is, under the rules of the House, to investigate the various state departments with special reference to their management and present efficiency, submit the following report with reference to the Fire Marshal's Department:

The Committee finds that in 1911 the expenditures of this department amounted to $12,661.91. In 1912 the expense increased 140 per cent, reaching the sum of $28,694.44. The tendency of the department tends towards a large increase in expense each year. From January 1st, 1914, until March 1st, 1914, the department had receipts amounting to $29,182.75. At the beginning of the fiscal year, August 1st, 1914, there was an unexpended balance in that department of $6,611.28. From these statements it can be seen that in seven months of the last year $22,571.47 was expended. On this basis the present fiscal year will show about twenty-five per cent increase in expenditures over the last previous high record.

Attention is called to the fact that during the past four years service receipts have increased 2.4 per cent, this in spite of the fact of the constantly increasing expenditures cited above. We note that in the year 1914 there was expended for printing and supplies $741.56. In the year 1914 the same item, $2,296.04. In the year 1913 Miscellaneous Expenses are summarized $1,812.66. In the year 1914, same item, $3,969.05.

The department consists of the Fire Marshal, Assistant Fire Marshal and five special deputies. An examination of the vouchers of the department shows that in the year 1914 and the first months of 1915 $2,935.25 has been paid for detective services. Testimony given before the Committee shows that many times when particular work is required, the department secured services of detectives and others outside of the department to handle each work.

It is the opinion of the present auditor, former insurance commissioner, and of the present insurance commissioner, and this opinion is shared by your committee, viz: that the work of the department has been too largely devoted to detecting criminals, which work belongs to the various counties in which the crimes were committed and has not devoted a due proportion of their energies to the preventing of fires. A great deal of their time has been spent in the Twin Cities and in Duluth, each of which cities has a fire marshal and a department of inspectors, the duty of whom is to inspect and condemn buildings which are a menace to the adjacent property, to detect and report cases that are within their jurisdiction.

We believe that the work of the State Fire Marshal in those three cities is largely superfluous. It has been the custom of the towns throughout the state, when a fire occurs, to call on the State Fire Marshal for assistance and place the burden of the investigation upon the Fire Marshal Department at the expense of the state. By consulting laws governing the office of Fire Marshal—Sections 5134, 1&2, 5136 and 5148, it will be seen that the department has largely exceeded the responsibility put upon it by law and at the expense of the state has assumed duties and incurred expenses which properly belong to the locality affected.

The salaries of detectives and other persons employed are fixed by the Fire Marshal and by him alone, and there is no limit to the number of such employees except that imposed by the amount of money available to support the department.

Many of the vouchers filed in the State Auditor's office during the last year show amounts varying from $25.00 to $150.00 charged to expense of detectives. No itemized expense statements are attached. In many instances the payment for the services of detectives and their expenses are stated in lump sums, no itemized statement being attached. This fact alone indicates, to say the least, very loose methods of doing business.

Mr. Preus, former Insurance Commissioner, and Ex-Senator Works, present incumbent of that office, appeared before the Committee and stated that in their opinion, the duties of the Fire Marshal Department could and should be properly placed in the Insurance Department and if that were done, equal or better results might be obtained and less money expended, than under the present management.

The sub-committee, composed of Messrs. Pikop and Tollefson, reported the above facts and recommended that a bill be drawn to abolish the Fire Marshal Department and place its functions in the hands of the Insurance Commissioner. Such a bill has been drawn and introduced by this Committee. It also recommended a state law to regulate the construction and operation of moving picture shows and theaters showing moving pictures in which celluloid films are used, to provide for an inspection fee for operating the same and to place the supervision of such shows and theaters under the Department of the State Fire Marshal. That bill also has been introduced as a committee bill.

In order that no misunderstanding may arise from this report, let it be said that the Fire Marshal's department is and has been self supporting from a tax which the insurance companies have imposed upon themselves for that purpose, it being three-eighths of one per cent of the gross premiums and assessments of companies doing business within the state. This money is due the state between January 1st and March 1st of the year following that in which the business was done. Twice in the past four years this department has asked and received from the insurance companies advance payments of this tax. While this may be excusable in a case of emergency, it is nevertheless a bad business practice. While, as stated above, the money does not come from the state in the first instance, it is, nevertheless, the duty of the state to disburse the fund in the most efficient and economic manner.

In view of all the facts presented to the committee, it unanimously is recommended that the above bills mentioned herein be passed, and that the Insurance Commissioner hereafter be charged with the duty of administering the duties formerly administered by the State Fire Marshal.

The bill pertaining to the Fire Marshal's department comprises a complete revision of the Fire Marshal law adapting the same to new conditions anticipated by the proposed change of turning over the Fire Marshal's duties to the Insurance Commissioner of the state. The proposed law should not be construed as antagonistic to the law passed by this House and recalled from the Senate, but if passed would endorse the idea contained in that bill elaborated to meet the new conditions.

Charles L. Sawyer,
Chairman Public Accounts and Expenditures.

Mr. Kneeland moved to amend S. F. No. 104 as follows:

Amend Section 11 by striking out the word "as" after the word "procedure" and before the word "laid" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "herein" in the third line from the end of said section.

Amend Section 13 by inserting after the words "claim and demand" and before the words "of every defendant" the following: "in, to and upon the land embraced in the proceeding" in the seventh line of the second paragraph thereof.

Amend Section 14 by inserting after the words "the court" and before the words "shall issue" the following: "upon request of the city" in the last line.

Also amend Section 14 by adding at the end thereof the following: "and in case of reversal of the judgment the council may, at its option, within ninety days abandon all proceedings and upon the filing of a certified copy of the ordinance or resolutions of the council so abandoning proceedings in the office of the clerk of the District Court every judgment theretofore entered shall be vacated and set aside and rendered of no effect."

Amend Section 16 by striking out the words "immediately upon" at the beginning of the section and inserting in lieu thereof the word "after"

Also amend Section 16 by striking out the words "so as to interrupt as little as may be" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "so as not to interrupt unreasonably" in the fourteenth line of the second paragraph thereof.

Amend Section 17 by inserting after the word "station" and before the word "by" the following: "lands, buildings, tracks and facilities" at the end of the fourth line.

Amend Sections 18, 19, 20 and 21 so as to read as follows:

Sec. 18. The council shall have power and it shall be its duty to raise money for the payment of such awards and interest thereon after the date of such judgment at the rate of not more than six per cent per annum and to pay the cost of all improvements aforesaid and all expenses incurred, including the principal and interest of all sums paid or incurred under Section 26 of this act, and interest accruing upon bonds issued under this section during course of construction, "and to create a reasonable working fund" by the issue and sale of special union station bonds of the city in an amount to be approved by the commission for the payment of which principal and interest the revenues of the station and facilities aforesaid shall be pledged, which bonds may be secured by a mortgage upon the property, but such pledge shall not prevent the use of such revenues for the current expense of maintenance, operation, renewal and repair, so long as there shall be no default in principal or interest of the bonds, no general or personal liability on the part of the city shall be created by any such bonds or mortgage issued under this section, except the liability to pay the revenues of the station as aforesaid. "Upon payment or tender of payment of the amounts due under the judgment" aforesaid either party may apply to the court for an order "determining the amount of interest and taxes and assessments to be added, if any, as under Section 13."

Sec. 19. The bonds authorized under Section 18 may be issued in such form and amounts and may be executed in such manner and payable at such times and places and with such rate of interest as the council shall deem best and the commission approve, and shall be sold from time to time at public sale or upon sealed bids to the best bidder after published notice in the official newspaper of the city. Each of said bonds shall state upon its face that it is payable from the funds provided by this act other than funds provided by Section 26 of this act. It shall be the duty of the city to require the payment of the compensation by the railroad companies herein authorized, failing which the holder or holders of not less than ten per cent of such bonds at the time outstanding may maintain an action against the city to compel the performance of such duty.

Sec. 20. Upon the completion of such station it shall be the duty of the railroad companies "to connect their tracks therewith and" to run their passenger trains from and into such station and to take and discharge passengers and their baggage therein. It shall also be the duty of the several railroad companies, "including those, if any, which operate freight cars or trains over the tracks" to pay quarterly to the city such compensation as the council may determine and which compensation shall be sufficient "only" to pay all expenses of "operation," maintenance, renewal and repair and interest upon the bonds aforesaid "while outstanding" and a sinking fund of not exceeding two per cent "per annum" upon the principal of all bonds issued to retire the bonds; provided that the council may, in its discretion, issue such bonds payable serially as to principal, with maturities so adjusted as to equalize as nearly as practicable the total annual payments of principal and interest and retire the entire issue of bonds in not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty-five years, in which case the amount of payments by the railroad companies shall be sufficient to pay also the principal of the bonds from time to time maturing.

Sec. 21. The council shall from time to time fix the amount to be paid by each railroad company, sufficient in the aggregate to cover the amounts specified in the foregoing sections, and in proportion as nearly as may be to the actual use by each railroad company. Upon the verified complaint of any person or of any railroad company that the compensation so determined by the council to be paid by the several railroad companies, or by any railroad company using the facilities of such station is unequal or unreasonable, the commission shall proceed upon not less than eight days' notice to the city and to all railroad companies, to investigate the matters alleged in such complaint and for the purposes of such investigation they may require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents. If upon the hearing such compensation or charges are found to be unequal or unreasonable, the commission shall make an order stating wherein the same are so unequal or unreasonable and shall make a tariff of charges which shall be substituted for the charges so complained of.

The tariff so made by the commissioner shall be deemed prima facie reasonable in all courts and shall be in full force during the pendency of any appeal or other proceedings to review the action of the commission in asking the same. Any party may appeal to the district court of the county in which the city is located from any order of the commission fixing, or refusing to fix, compensation within thirty days after written notice of the filing of the order, and such appeals may be heard by the district court on eight days' notice without regard to term time. The court shall review such order and determine the rights and duties of the parties.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENTS.

The Journal of the 67th day, on the vote taken on the passage of S. F. No. 719, should be corrected to read that thereupon the Chair announced the vote, but did not declare the bill passed or its title agreed to.

On Saturday, April 10th, 1915, S. F. No. 719 was pending before the House, and a motion was made to suspend the rules and that said Senate File be read a second and third time and placed upon its final passage. But 77 votes were cast in the affirmative. The Chair, without opportunity for reflection, declared the motion carried. After consideration and reflection, the Chair is of the opinion that 87 votes in the affirmative were necessary to suspend the rules and that the ruling of the Chair was erroneous both under the rules of the House and Section Twenty (20) of Article Four (4) of the Constitution of this State, and the Chair is of the opinion that the action of the House in passing the bill under consideration was illegal and unconstitutional.

The position of the Chair is now made clear to the House so as to safeguard and protect the Senate File in question and avoid the passage of an illegal law, and the question is now presented to the House to take such action as it may be advised.

Let the views of the Chair, above expressed, be entered in the Journal of the House for this day.

Mr. Warner moved the approval of the Journal of the 67th day as printed.

The question being taken on the approval of the Journal,

Mr. Johnson, J. T., moved that the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the Faribault School for the Deaf and Dumb be received and printed in the Journal.

Which motion prevailed.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House of Representatives:

Your committee appointed under the Spooner resolution adopted by this body on the 5th day of February, 1915, to inquire and investigate into the conduct, management and administration of the school for the deaf at Faribault, Minnesota, of which Dr. J. N. Tate is superintendent, respectfully reports:

That it has prosecuted such inquiry and investigation, to the best of its ability, as contemplated by said resolution and with especial reference to certain charges made at a voluntary, initial or preliminary hearing held in this Capitol during January and February, 1915, granted to the Hon. A. F. Teigen by the Board of Directors of said school, and which was the moving cause in bringing about this investigation.

Your committee has made thorough inquiry into the various departments of the said institution, its conduct and management, its government and the disciplinary methods, together with its buildings, equipment, educational and domiciliary facilities and accommodations, its culinary and food departments, its various industrial training departments and their equipment, and the degree of efficiency of such training in fitting graduates as skilled workmen or workwomen.

The administration building, known as "Tate Hall" is a magnificent and substantial structure, built of native stone, some 344 ft. long by 60 ft. wide, practically three stories in height besides a spacious attic, entirely fire-proof, well heated and ventilated, with spacious corridors and ample light, modern in all its appointments, compactly and conveniently arranged, and in every respect well adapted to its purposes, plainly but neatly and substantially furnished with furniture, stated by Dr. Tate, to have been practically all made in the cabinet making shop in the industrial department of the school. The whole with an eye, apparently, to the most approved ideas of sanitation and utility rather than to elegance and artistic or decorative beauty.

"Tate Hall" is modern in every respect, besides being utilized as the residence of the Superintendent and his family, together with the executive officers of the administration department of the institution. It also constitutes the girls' dormitory, where all the girls are housed.

"Mott Hall" and "Barron Hall" are both ancient, antiquated and in many respects dilapidated and ram-shackle structures, ill designed to their respective purposes, without pretense to convenience and, in fact, may be characterized as veritable fire-traps and a menace to the lives of their inmates.

The outer walls of these buildings are constructed of native rock; well built, massive and substantial, and look as if they would withstand the corroding influences of time almost indefinitely, but inwardly these buildings are entirely of wooden construction, poorly arranged, and in almost a disgraceful condition of repair and decay, and consequently unsanitary in the extreme.

These buildings, your committee is informed, could not be remodeled, modernized and fire-proofed at a cost less than would be required to erect new structures of similar capacity or of like floor space.

Barron Hall is used as a boys' dormitory, in which they are housed in rooms containing from 16 to 30 beds each, while Mott Hall has been practically abandoned as too old and dangerous.

The hospital building, so-called, is an ancient and dilapidated frame structure, entirely inadequate in every respect, unsanitary, in a sad condition of repair and decay, incapable and unworthy of such repairs and rehabilitation as would make it available for its purpose, and is also a dangerous fire-trap and a menace to life.

These three buildings should at once be replaced with adequate modern fireproof structures, if the efficiency, usefulness and dignity of the school are to be maintained.

"Noyes Hall," being the main school building and auditorium, is practically a new building, substantially built, also of native rock, well planned, spacious and airy, with some pretense to architectural and artistic beauty; on the whole a good building.

The farm in connection with the school is practically a "joke," although from the viewpoint of its products for the year 1914, as itemized and appraised in the annual report of the superintendent, to the State Board of Control, it amounted to the aggregate sum of $2064.94.

This farm consists of 26 acres of land with a small dwelling house, small barn or stable with a small silo in connection, and a green house, and, so far as your committee was able to ascertain is almost entirely devoid of all necessary farm tools, machinery and equipment. The farm, your committee is advised, is too small both for demonstrative and for utilitarian purposes. There is a 20-acre tract adjoining this farm which, your committee is informed, may, at this time, be bought at a reasonable price, and if the farm be a desirable adjunct to the school and is to be continued in connection therewith, the additional 20 acres should be acquired and the farm properly equipped, not only for the purpose of effective and profitable farming but also of the imparting of proper agricultural instruction to the students.

There is no inside gymnasium of any kind worthy of mention. The play-rooms are barren of all furniture, of all equipment for healthful exercise or for amusement, have poor floors and are barn-like in appearance. The reading rooms are furnished with seats and desks of an obsolete, mutilated type, and such would long since have been discarded from any country schoolhouse. These rooms are uninviting and repellant, a condition that should be remedied without delay.

It is the purpose of your committee to make its report as brief as possible, but we have gone into the foregoing somewhat lengthy description of the buildings and equipment for the reason that our investigation has failed satisfactorily to locate responsibility for the conditions described, and we desire to put the matter before the House in the hope that legislative action may be taken in the near future to remedy the same.

Your committee inquiry and investigation into the management control and conduct of the school has taken a wide range and covered practically every phase and condition in every department of its activity, and extending over the entire period of Dr. Tate's administration, of nearly twenty years.

Our inquiry has disclosed the fact that, as in most, if not all, cases of unsalaried officers, the board has given but little attention to the school, having practically left everything in the hands of Dr. Tate, even to the exclusion of having prescribed "regulations for the admission and government of its pupils and doing all things necessary for their efficient education and training." (See Sec. 4145, Gen. Statutes Minnesota, 1913) as all its members have freely and frankly admitted; and the records and minutes of the board disclose no proceedings indicating any exercise of authority upon the part of the board other than to ratify any action previously taken by Dr. Tate. The matter of educational management and supervision of the school, the admission and government of pupils, denial of admission or discharge for any cause, mode of punishment, method and manner of enforcing discipline, and the entire matter of the government of the institution were admittedly left in the hands of the superintendent who seems, perforce, to have been Monarch of the Manor, and the only wonder is that he did not exercise his authority in a more arbitrary manner.

Dr. J. N. Tate has been superintendent of the school, by the grace of the Board of Directors and by the force of his strong personality, and perhaps for reasons of ability and efficiency for over 19 years, during all of which time, as nearly as we have been able to ascertain, he has exercised imperial authority over it. That he has made some mistakes goes without saying. That he has, on occasions, doubtlessly been arbitrary only emphasizes the strength of his personality and the force of his character. That in some things he has grown indifferent and lackadaisical on account of such want of direction and supervisory authority over him seems established by the testimony adduced. That in a public position fraught with the care, development, education and government of thousands of children assembled from widely diverse sections of the state, brought up under varying conditions of home influences and perhaps of pampered and indulged habits, all necessarily accustomed to but a narrow sphere of social activity, with a somewhat limited and restricted outlook upon the serious things of life, he should have incurred relentless enmities is not to be wondered at or unexpected.

In the matter of teacher and supervisor it is not our purpose or province, as we regard it, to individualize for obvious reasons. There are about persons in all including both teachers and supervisors and their annual salary varies from $450 to $1500. Among others are several instructors possibly second to none in the country, but certain of them are admittedly deficient in the sign language and therefore inefficient instructors and unable to properly impart knowledge to the students. The reason given by Dr. Tate for the selection of the poorer teachers is the small salaries for which their services are employed and the lack of funds to secure better ones. If the funds are thus limited to the institution, then it is obvious that Dr. Tate is not culpable for this lack, but the Board of Control in submitting an insufficient budget or the Legislature in curtailing it, must bear the onus.

The industrial department is sadly neglected, inefficient and below par, both in its equipment and in the method and scope of its industrial training. The printing department is lacking in practically every element of a modern "print shop" and but little benefit would occur to any boy endeavoring to acquire a knowledge of the printing business until new and up-to-date equipment be installed. The cabinet making and carpenter shop are practically devoid of necessary tools and machinery. An old-fashioned small hand lathe, a band-saw and a planer, together with a few common hand tools constitute the entire equipment.

The blacksmith shop has been entirely abandoned, while it is the common complaint of the students who have been graduated from the school and from the various trades departments thereof, that they were without any workable knowledge of such trade on entering the world of industry.

If it be the purpose of the industrial department of the school to supply a trade or an industrial knowledge by which such graduate may earn a livelihood on leaving the school we believe that the testimony justifies your committee in the statement that it has signally failed to do so. The responsibility for this failure, it would appear, must be shared by the state, by the Board of Directors, by the superintendent, and faculty and possibly by the State Board of Control. Your committee has been unable to localize the responsibility, and submits the facts for your consideration.

Certain statements and charges reflecting upon the moral character of Dr. Tate have been permitted to go into the testimony, also certain charges of cruel and unusual modes of punishment. It is only fair to Dr. Tate, and a matter of common justice, to state that such charges are without sufficient evidence to convince your committee most of the punishments complained of relating to a time from 10 to 19 years or more ago, and in every reasonable view of human conditions should be regarded as merged into the oblivion of the past under the universally recognized law of limitation.

There is testimony to the effect that sick children were not properly cared for at the hospital. That medical aid was not promptly summoned in case of sickness, and that in some cases parents of children who became ill there, were not notified of such illness in some instances for several days and that in at least one or two cases the death of such sick child resulted as a direct result of such neglect or carelessness, while in another case telephonic inquiry by the parents as to the health of their child, for several days in succession, elicited repeated assurances that the child was well and was out playing, whereas a visit made by such parent a few days or about a week afterwards disclosed the fact that the child was then and had been for nearly three weeks, confined to her bed, although not seriously ill.

A case of gross negligence both as to medical attention and nursing will be seen in evidence volume 2, pages 475 and following, in the case of the death of the daughter of one Mr. F. O. Hillman of Red Wing, Minnesota, where not only notification of the sickness of the child to the parents was neglected, but also proper nursing were most flagrantly disregarded. See testimony, page 479.

Q. "There was no nurse there at the time that she was sick during the night—doubled up?"

A. "No, only the night watch there."

These are two serious charges and unfortunately both were made before the committee in the absence of Dr. Tate, who on being informed thereof made substantially the following explanation under oath: That one of the girls who on being taken from the institution died on her arrival at Minneapolis. That she had been for a long time prior to her death in the last stages of tuberculosis, and that she herself had been in constant communication with her parents, advising them of her condition, and also that he himself had communicated the facts to them, and that they were fully advised of the condition of their child; the parents of this child were not before your committee, and that in the other case the child, a little girl, was taken with appendicitis which did not seem serious nor develop distinguishing symptoms at first, but that her parents were notified as soon as the fact of her sickness came to his knowledge and that on the arrival of her parents they were advised by Dr. Robiliard, the official physician of the school, of her condition and an immediate operation was advised, but owing to their refusing to consent, several days elapsed before such operation was made and meanwhile conditions developed which resulted in the death of the child. Your committee is of the opinion that the testimony establishes a degree of negligence in the hospital department of the school, especially when the facts as stated are taken in connection with the fact that no trained nurse has been employed in the hospital; also from the point of evidence brought out by the testimony of Dr. Robiliard that during epidemics of measles, etc., his calls to the hospital were only at the call of the above mentioned nurse, who is, and has been, admittedly of no hospital experience, therefore in a professional sense not a proper person to have charge of the hospital.

Dr. Robiliard is admittedly under salary by the State of Minnesota and his and Dr. Tate's negligence in having allowed such conditions to exist should be subject to severe censure. Your committee recommends that steps be at once taken to secure proper medical attention and ample nursing facilities. This fact the committee wish to particularly emphasize.

The testimony also discloses the fact that at times insufficient and poorly prepared food is served, on which matter, however, there is some conflicting testimony on the part of those who have attended the school and who were otherwise opposed to its administration.

There were also charges of arbitrary and unwarranted dismissals from the school which your committee is unable, from the meager testimony supporting them, to regard as established.

The almost unanimous and exceedingly violent opposition of the deaf throughout the state to the Faribault school, and especially to its superintendent, Dr. J. N. Tate, seems to emanate from a difference of opinion regarding methods of instruction and obviously apparent abuse of authority in the management of the school and in the treatment of the children in attendance.

Dr. Tate, so nearly as we have been able to learn both from his testimony given before your committee and from his public utterances wherever the subject was discussed, adheres to the combined oral and manual system of teaching, and that idea seems to be carried out in the school, while at least the leaders in the Minnesota Association of the Deaf charge him with being an "oralist" and with insiduously endeavoring to deprive the school of its manual or sign language. So intense and acrimoniously manifest seems to be the feeling among the deaf that it embarrassed our investigation into charges of mismanagement and carelessness in this respect, and, if actuated by a sincere belief of wrong-doing in the school, has served to defeat its own purpose.

Your committee calls attention to this fact in order that its recommendation hereafter made may be better understood, and respectfully refer amongst other things to a sworn statement in evidence Col. 2, P. 441. By Prof. J. L. Smith teaching the first manual class in the school, of which the following are brief excerpts:

"The school has no definite educational standard, meaning a definite requirement for graduation."

"There is discrimination against the manual department and a desire of pupils to be transferred is refused."

Discrimination in granting leave of absence for teachers and the provisions and payment of substitutes.

When Dr. Noyes retired from the superintendency about twenty years ago he left two good reading rooms—they were real reading rooms under strict rules—at present they are more of a loafing and playroom than a reading room.

At present the boys' reading room in Barron Hall is a farce."

Only two periodicals are at present taken, "The Saturday Evening Post" and the "Country Gentleman." Neither of which is adapted to the understanding of the majority of the boys.

Trade instruction is far from satisfactory. Pupils do learn to do certain things connected with the trade, but they do not learn to do things independently. Commenting further upon Prof. Smith's statement, this committee begs to state that he expresses his belief in said statement that girls cannot fit a dress all by themselves and further being able to prepare a good meal without help. In the printing office there is lack of up-to-date instruction. The shoe-shop is but little better than a repair shop and even as that it is below grade.

As to agriculture, the Professor states that the work mainly is that of ordinary farm labor. The Professor calls attention to the fact that twenty years ago there were 242 pupils enrolled, and at present about 250. This in face of a compulsory school law and an enormously increased population.

Reasons for this the Professor ascribes first, that no special effort has been made to round up the uneducated deaf children of the state, and, second, that there is something lacking in the school itself which dissatisfies both parents and pupils, with the result that many are withdrawn who would remain were conditions otherwise.

Now, having analyzed at this length the facts as your committee has been able to gather them from the mass of testimony produced, and basing its judgment on the facts so ascertained, your committee makes the following suggestions and recommendations:

1. That such legislative action may be taken as soon as possible as will place the entire management of the Faribault school for the deaf under the exclusive control and direction of the State Board of Control.

2. That in case such action cannot be taken at this time, the present Board of Directors be either requested to resign, in order that their places may be filled by strong men of known business and executive ability, whose personality and activity may infuse new life and character into the institution, or that the present board, under the spur of the executive power of the state, be required to exercise such supervisory care and direction over the institution as is prescribed and contemplated by law.

3. That the policy of the school with reference to the methods of its literary and industrial training be established and defined by law, or prescribed by such board, to the end that all apprehension and bickering on that score may be allayed.

4. That the resignation of Dr. J. N. Tate is deemed advisable by your committee and that the same be requested by the proper authorities at the end of the present school year.

Dated this 12th day of April, 1915.

By your Committee,

P. H. Konzen, Chairman.

A. F. Teigen.

SECOND READING OF HOUSE BILLS.

H. F. No. 1075,

Was read the second time.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

St. Paul, April 8, 1915.

To the Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives,
Thirty-ninth Legislative Session:

The Committee on Public Accounts and Expenditures, whose duty it is, under the rules of the House, to investigate the various state departments with special reference to their management and present efficiency, submit the following report with reference to the Hotel Inspection Department:

The Committee finds that for all practical purposes the department exists as a place to which the hotels and restaurants of the state mail their fees. As constituted at present and with the organization allowed by law, it is an impossibility to enforce the provisions of the law governing the department.

At the present time there are about thirty-five hundred hotels and restaurants in the state. A license fee of $2.00 is required of each one. The total fees for the last year amounted to $4,739.00. This amount falls short of $2,261 of what should have been received. The law is only being partially enforced.

Many hotels and restaurants apply for a license and pay their fees. However, the law forbids granting a license until an inspection is made. The department as organized is unable to carry out this provision. Consequently, many places are operating without a license. Section 5115 provides that hotels and restaurants operating without a license shall be denied relief in the courts in any action. Consequently the department as conducted is manifestly unfair to the hotels. In the last two years the work of inspecting hotels in the Twin Cities has been practically neglected owing to the fact that criticism was directed against the department for doing too much of this work. Efforts have been largely confined to the country districts. It is obvious that two men cannot inspect over three thousand hotels and restaurants at least once a year, as the law requires, and spend half of their time in the office.

In justice to the department, the committee calls attention to the fact that testimony given at the hearings showed that valuable work had been done by the department, but in a limited way, owing to the small force of the office as now constituted.

The Sub-committee, composed of Messrs. Olien and Bernard, reported the above facts and recommended that a bill be drawn to abolish the Hotel Inspection Department and place its functions in the hands of the Dairy and Pure Food Department. Such a bill has been drawn and introduced by this committee.

The bill pertaining to the Hotel Inspection Department embodies all of the present laws governing that department, adapted to meet the new conditions anticipated by the proposed change of turning over the hotel inspection to the Dairy and Pure Food Department.

Charles L. Sawyer,
Chairman Public Accounts and Expenditures Committee.

Which was read and ordered printed in the Journal.

Mr. Stevens' tribute to Abraham Lincoln:

On February 12, 1809, there was born in a little log cabin in the State of Kentucky the man who later was to hold in his hand the destinies of a great nation. Reared in poverty, self-educated, only a country-bred lawyer, he achieved the presidency of the United States at the age of 51 years, and has long been acknowledged as the greatest product of modern civilization. On the battelfield of Gettysburg, where the flower of American chivalry and manhood had clashed in deadly combat, and where a Minnesota regiment had won imperishable fame, this man, in a speech that is one of the gems of English literature, expressed the hope that the nation which our forefathers had created upon this continent, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal, a nation of the people, for the people and by the people, should not perish from the earth. He was justified in believing that his hope would lead to fruition, for the Union victory at Gettysburg marked the turning point in the war, and permitted to break through the dark clouds that had been hanging like a pall over the country, a ray of bright sunshine to cheer and gladden the loyal people of the north and the lovers of freedom throughout the world. During the next two years, Abraham Lincoln struck the shackles from four million slaves, crushed under his heel the serpent of secession and preserved the United States as one indivisible nation. In the moment of his triumph he was struck down by the hand of a dastardly assassin—this man whose heart bled for the woes of his country; whose next thought after that for his country's salvation was for the widows and orphans of those who had, at their country's call, offered themselves as sacrifices upon its altar; who never bore malice, but freely forgave those who despitefully used him and persecuted him. So, on April 15, 1865, just 50 years ago today, Abraham Lincoln shed his life's blood as an atonement for the sins of his country. He was a man of sorrows and acquainted with griefs, but domestic affliction, factional strife, unjust criticism, incompetent leadership in the field, crushing defeat at the battlefront, all of these were powerless to swerve him from his purpose, which was the preservation of this beloved country at all hazards. His fame has grown with the passing of the years and today his name is revered as is no other, not only in America but in every land where human liberty is valued and human equality sought. As Secretary Stanton said at his bedside, he now belongs to the ages; nevertheless, this country, which gave him to the world and where his herculean and almost superhuman labors were wrought, has the greatest reason for cherishing his memory. It would be eminently fitting on this day that the national colors be half-masted on every public building in our land, as a token of love, respect and gratitude to our first martyred president, and that we pause for a moment in our labors to offer up a silent prayer for the future prosperity and happiness of the nation he gave his life to save.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

St. Paul, April 16, 1915.

Hon. H. H. Flowers,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
State Capitol.

Dear Sir: Some time since you asked to be advised by this department relative to the last day upon which the present legislative session could lawfully convene, and you were advised that such day would be April 22d.

You now inquire as to what will be the last day of such session upon which bills may be passed. You are advised that Section 22 of Article 4 of the State Constitution reads as follows:

“No bill shall be passed by either house of the legislature upon the day prescribed for the adjournment of the two houses. But this section shall not be construed as to preclude the enrollment of a bill, or the signature and passage from one house to the other, or the reports thereon from committees, or its transmission to the executive for his signature.”

It therefore follows that the last day upon which bills may be passed by either house of the legislature, will be April 21st.

Yours very truly,

CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Assistant Attorney General.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Sawyer moved that the report of the Public Accounts and Expenditures Committee be printed in the Journal.

Which motion prevailed.

By motion of Mr. Sawyer, the following report was ordered printed in the Journal:

SPECIAL REPORT—PUBLIC ACCOUNTS AND EXPENDITURES COMMITTEE UNIVERSITY INVESTIGATION.

To the Honorable H. H. Flowers, Speaker, and to the Members of the House of Representatives, Thirty-ninth Legislative Session:

The Public Accounts and Expenditures Committee whose duty it is, under the rules of the House, to investigate the various State Departments with special reference to their management and present efficiency, submit the following report with reference to its inquiry into the business methods, efficiency and general administration of the University of Minnesota:

In the course of its investigation your committee held six public hearings, four in the House Chamber, and two at the University, besides several further hearings in its committee room. General publicity was given in every instance to the date of the holding of such meeting and urgent invitations were extended to House members and to all others to submit inquiries in writing or otherwise, to which the authors desired answers be given, by the authorities at the University.

The inquiry has covered a very broad field and the committee believes it has been searching and thorough, as much so at least as the time given us for the investigation would permit.

It could not be expected that the committee would make a complete audit of the accounts of the University following each item from its source, but it held several conferences with Mr. Havil of the Public Examiner's Department, who has just completed his last annual report, and members of the committee have been free to submit to him any questions of bookkeeping which they deemed necessary to throw light upon the financial conditions existing at the institution.

A complete report of the last examination was submitted to and is still in the custody of the committee, to which it has at all times had access. From the committee's several conferences with Mr. Havil, it became evident that by a somewhat different arrangement between the offices of the Comptroller of the University, State Auditor and State Treasurer, some legal arrangement should be made to take advantage of the ten day cash discount, which in the judgment of the Public Examiner's office, would save in such discounts several thousand dollars in cash to the University each year. Further, at the suggestion of Mr. Havil a bill was drawn which in the opinion of the Comptroller of the University, State Auditor and Treasurer would cover this suggestion and at the same time legalize the University budget and the office of Comptroller of the University and permit the Deans of the institution to certify the pay rolls of their respective departments. Said bill was introduced and has passed the House and is at the present time on a special order in the Senate and will undoubtedly pass that body by the time this report is printed.

COMPTROLLER'S DEPARTMENT.

Mr. Fritz, the Public Examiner, being questioned at one of the hearings made the following statement: "The accounting department is better conducted today than ever before at the University. There are chances for improvement, but we have the co-operation of the University and we are cutting corners wherever possible and keeping down expenses. The system is much more extensive than it was four years ago and naturally requires more people. The Public Examiner's Department is very much pleased with the manner in which the accountancy of the University is being conducted now. The salaries are not excessive, everyone is industrious and pays close attention to details.

The Comptroller's office spent $30,335.43 last year which is an increase of $3,736.60 over the previous year. This expense cannot be curtailed. In the Comptroller's office is the Purchasing Department. They purchase $94,000 worth of provision in that office every year. The State requires its employees to take receipts for all amounts over $1.00. There is a traveling expense also of $50,000. Every one of these items must be checked and audited.

Stenographers and bookkeepers are getting a larger salary at the State Capitol than those similarly employed receive at the University. The employees of the University are busy all the year. They work eight hours per day.

Statements or receipts are issued in duplicate. The Treasurer of the University takes in all the money. Then the money is sent to the State Treasurer, that is the money collected at the University. Money received by the various departments outside of the University is sent to the University and then to the Treasurer. The Regents do not see any of it. There is a contingent or revolving fund in charge of the Comptroller, but he has to account for that by sub-vouchers and checks issued against the account. That is checked out by the Comptroller of the University and I know of no way in which a Regent could handle the money."

Upon request the Public Examiner furnished your committee with the following analysis of the Comptroller's office including all employees in his immediate department, and defining the duties of each:

Note 1. Comptroller.—

The appointment of the Comptroller is made by the President of the University by and with the consent and approval of the Board of Regents. He serves as secretary of the Board and is responsible for all business affairs of the University, including accounting, purchasing, care of buildings and grounds, business relations with the Board of Control, preparation and administration of the financial budget.

Note 2. Purchasing Officer.—

During the fiscal year ending July 31st, 1914, 12,409 orders covering appromixately 50,000 items were issued. Purchases are made on competitive bids and the contracts are filed numerically. The nature of the supplies purchased necessitates a large correspondence.

Note 3. Assistant in Purchasing Department.—

In addition to assisting in the purchasing, the assistant keeps a card index record of purchases by commodities.

Note 4. Clerk in Purchasing Department.—

The work involved in this position is the writing up of orders, five copies of each order being made by use of double carbons. And also making copies of requisitions for sending out inquiries for prices. This, until recently, has been handled by two clerks. The organization of a general storehouse cut down requisitions and orders to some extent and an experiment is being made with one man doing the work of the two positions. The work is altogether too heavy and there is no doubt that we shall have to go back to the old system although the work of writing inquiries does not take the full time of one clerk.

Note 5. Invoice Clerk.—

The invoice clerk receives copies of the orders and checks all the invoices with the price indicated on the order and by reference to the contract. He also runs a tracer system to check the receipt of bills, goods, etc.

Note 6. Accountant.—

The accountant, under the direction of the Comptroller, has charge of all accounting. The work so far has been very heavy indeed, necessitating a great deal of overtime work and sacrifice of vacation. In the two years last passed, the accountant has been compelled to forego more than fifty per cent of vacation allowed.

Note 7. Bookkeeper.—

This position would be more correctly termed "assistant accountant" as the actual bookkeeping involves but a very small portion of the time. There is a great deal of work in compiling figures for the budget, for reports and for information requested by other universities, etc.

Note 8. Cashier and Assistant.

This department has handled in cash and checks, not including the reimbursement of the Contingent Funds, $565,164, as follows:

Tuition fees, $197,741.28; Military Dept., $14.09; General "U" Miscellaneous, $8,326.31; Dental Infirmary, $21,303.47; Sanford Hall, $20,047.50; Shevlin Hall, $12,461.12; Shevlin Hall (summer), $1,120.37; Campus Building Rents, $10,199.38; Sundry Trust Funds, $15,446.37; "U" Repairs, $6,200.07; Elliott Hospital Support, $4,813.32; "U" Research, $139.39; Law Library, $253.00; "U" Library, $20.56; Scientific Books and Instruments, $101.97; General Extension, $12,506.10; Law Extension, $1,075.00; Correspondence Extension, $1,151.00; Summer Session, $9,118.82; Extension Miscellaneous Receipts, $14,610.22; Campus Fund, $1,430.00; Heating Plant, $1,042.80; Elliott Hospital Equipment, $23.99; School of Mines Experiment Station, $76.00; Geological Survey, $86.58; Engineering Building Equipment, $758.15; Anatomy Building Equipment, $27.61; Experimental Laboratory Equipment, $12.38; Post Office, Boxes, $0.60; Sprinkler System, $2.87; School of Mines Equipment, $0.15; School of Mines Fire Loss Building, $3.00; Agricultural Fees, $42,052.51; Agricultural Miscellaneous Receipts, $182,998.55.

During the year there were 9,538 fee receipts issued, 2,452 miscellaneous receipts, 3,247 refundments made, aggregating $27,986.31, and 8,884 contingent checks issued, aggregating $342,575.19. The greater part of the contingent payments are expense bills for travel in the extension and other departments. These have to be carefully checked and audited.

Note 9. Clerks, Abstract Clerk.—

The duties of the abstract clerk are to look after invoices, check vouchers and make abstracts of claims. During the year twenty-one abstracts, averaging in the neighborhood of 30 pages, and ninety-eight Board of Control Abstracts, are made. An examination of the abstract alone can give an idea of the work.

File. Clerk.—

A central filing system is maintained. It includes regular correspondence, correspondence with reference to orders, filing of invoices, inquiries, contracts, valuable papers, etc. In addition to this, the file clerk traces on return of invoices from the departments.

Accounts with Firms.—

A card index system is maintained with firm we deal with. It comprises approximately 6,500 cards with approximately 1,200 live accounts.

Note 10. Payroll Clerk.

It would perhaps seem unreasonable to say that the University payroll occupies the full time of a clerk, but there are many matters in connection with the payroll to look after. A full record of appointments, changes in salary and transfers by the Board of Regents have to be noted. In addition to the payroll, quarterly reports, showing the condition of the payroll accounts are made. This is a big job and has to be absolutely accurate.

Note 11. Loan Clerk and Statistician.—

The University has trust funds aggregating approximately $100,000, the income from which is used in assisting needy students. We have two classes of loans: regular loans, authorized by the Board of Regents, and temporary loans, authorized by the President and Comptroller. The temporary loans are made in lieu of granting extension of time in paying fees. The clerk in charge also prepares the reports to the Federal Government.

Note 12. Stenographer and Clerk to the Comptroller.—

Most of the dictation in the business office is to the dictaphone. There is a great deal of special dictation, however, too intricate to use the dictaphone. The Comptroller's stenographer and clerk looks after the minutes, indexing, entering in the budget the amendments, assists in the work of preparation of the budget, prepares budget transfers for the board meeting, authorizations for trips outside the state, etc.

Note 13. Stenographers.—

Three receiving dictaphones and two transmitters are used for the dictation of letters in the business office. In addition to the correspondence, there is a great deal of other typewriting to do and it is frequently necessary to employ additional help.

Note 14. Storehouse Office.—

This comprises the budget system, classification and cost accounting.

Budget System.—

At the present time, we have three clerks on the budget. Heretofore, we have had but two. The temporary addition of an extra clerk is necessitated by a change in the system resulting from the establishment of a central storehouse. It is expected that as soon as the work becomes thoroughly systematized, two clerks will be able to handle the work. The budget of the year which closed July 31st, 1914, comprised 401 budget accounts. There were 14,280 requisitions filed. It should not be construed that this represents the debits entered. Frequently one requisition covers twenty or more items, purchased from five or six different firms which necessitates the entering of innumerable invoices. Requisitions are entered at the estimate cost of supplies included. The accumulation of the invoices is necessary to determine the actual cost. Since the establishment of the storehouse, issues to the departments are charged to the budget.

Classification.—

There is one special clerk in the classification department. This department is worked with the budget and the accounts kept in reconciliation. The classification comprises approximately 1,500 sheets. Classification is made from invoices and storehouse slips.

Cost Accounting.—

With the organization of a general storehouse, a cost accounting system was inaugurated and clerks formerly in the department of buildings and grounds were transferred to the storehouse office. Authorizations numbered consecutively, are issued for each job or repairs; individual time slips, representing the labor and itemized material issues, covering material, are accumulated under the number of each authorization.

Multigraphing and Mimeographing.—

This department was organized to do the multigraphing and mimeographing for the several departments of the University. The department is supported by nominal fees from the department for which the work is performed.

THE SO-CALLED "BRENN AFFAIR."

In connection with the past history of the Comptroller's office, the Committee's attention having been called to the so-called "Brenn" defalcation, inquiry was made of the Hon. John Lind, and others, with reference to that incident. Mr. Lind made the following statement which your Committee has thought best to incorporate as part of its report.

By the Hon. John Lind, Formerly of the Board of Regents.

It was reported to me that it has been said that members of the Board of Regents and more particularly myself, took action as members of that board, calculated to relieve Brenn, or release him from punishment on account of his crime. I want to say that the statement, if made, is absolutely and unequivocally without foundation. If the man who made it had any knowledge of the facts, it is false. If he did not know the facts, then I say he ought to have informed himself before making a charge of that character.

Mr. Brenn had been—I don't remember his title, but he was chief bookkeeper or treasurer at the University for a number of years before I became a member of the board. He was there when I entered upon my duties as a regent. The man was efficient and his experience was an asset. His superior was less efficient and there was a great deal of strife between the two but the board managed to keep it within reasonable limits. Of course you appreciate that in an institution where there are hundreds of men employed, there is likely to be more or less contention and rivalry between individuals. It is one of the most troublesome problems that the President and the Board of Regents has to deal with.

It has been explained by the Public Examiner and doubtless by others, that not one penny of the money which you appropriate or the money that comes to the University is handled by the Board of Regents—not one penny. During the years that I was on the board I never saw, or touched, one cent of the money appropriated by the Legislature. Nor did any other member of the board. Money is kept in the treasury of the state until it is disbursed on the voucher not only of the University accounting officer, but the voucher of the State Auditor. Now the only money that the University handles is the fees and the receipts from the students, which are collected at the beginning of the year and during the year, and they are immediately deposited by the accounting officer, and Brenn was accounting officer.

After I was on the board for some time, I can't say just when, the Board of Regents, I think at my own instance, went through and examined all records and files to ascertain to what extent those men who received and handled funds were bonded or if those occupying responsible positions where funds of the state might be jeopardized were fully bonded. We found that pretty generally they were bonded, but we increased the bonds by resolution of the Board of Regents and under that resolution, Brenn's bond was increased. I think it was doubled, but I am not certain about this, so we felt absolutely secure on that point, knowing that neither he nor any one else under bond was likely to have a larger amount of funds than was covered by the bond.

Now in addition to the amounts that you gentlemen of the legislature appropriate for the support of the University and the fees collected, there is one class of funds that the University necessarily requires to be collected. It is what we call the breakage fund. Of course you know that in any department there is a great deal of delicate material and glass ware, not to mention delicate and costly instruments. Every student pursuing studies in one of the departments where there is probability of loss from breakage of that character, is required at the beginning of the year to deposit a certain sum of money, $5.00 I believe. This is kept for the protection of the University. This could not be deposited with the State Treasurer, or at least it had not been done, and we did not see any reason for doing so, because it could not be gotten out again at the beginning of the year to refund the balance to the students. So those funds were left in the hands of the Treasurer until the end of the year when settlements were made with the individual students, according to the amount of supplies or breakage they had charged against them.

So Brenn had this breakage fund money. He was instructed to keep it in a bank designated by the Board of Regents. He has a safety vault there. Now his accounts in all detail are subject to the examination of the Public Examiner. The members of the Board of Regents in the nature of things could not personally supervise the bookkeeping of the institution and never attempted to do that, except to compare the figures furnished by the accounting officers. They had to rely upon the examination made by the Public Examiner, and the Public Examiner in every instance, reported the accounts of Mr. Brenn correct and verified. After his defaulting, he probably juggled his balance by using his separate fund which was not state money, in the sense that it had been appropriated by the Legislature. He used that to balance his state money account, if there happened to be a shortage when an examination was being made by the Public Examiner. Then when it came to examining the breakage account, which came at a different time, it is possible he may have used money received from fees to cover the shortage in the breakage account. That is only an assumption on my part, but that was the conclusion that the Board of Regents came to. Well, one day we learned that Mr. Brenn had been held up and robbed of ten thousand dollars on his way back from the bank to the University where he had gone to bring that amount of cash. He stated that he wished to transfer it from one bank to another, that is, take it from the safety deposit vault of the Northwestern and put it in the St. Anthony Falls Bank, in order to have it ready to refund to the students. Well, of course as soon as we got that information, the Board of Regents held a meeting and I think that we were unanimous that he had spent that money or made some personal use of it and that this story was simply an excuse and we proceeded on that theory. The Board had a meeting and authorized and directed me to look after it. I served notice on the bonding company that we would hold them to the extent of the loss within the limit of the bond. The Public Examiner was called over and he made an examination and he, together with the bonding company's experts, examined the accounts most thoroughly and absolutely to the satisfaction of the Board and every one else, and found the estimate to be something over fourteen thousand dollars. The matter was placed before the County Attorney. Mr. Nelson, myself and other members of the Board went before the Grand Jury and testified in regard to the defalcation, and gave whatever testimony was necessary to find an indictment. I also took up the matter of settlement. Mr. Cross, a Minneapolis attorney, was one of Brenn's attorneys, and Mr. Brady was the other attorney. They came to see me and wanted to know what could be done, and I told them that as soon as the Public Examiner had made his report, so that we knew the exact amount of the shortage and were in a position to prove it, that they would have to pay that money or we would institute suit. There were negotiations back and forth. We were not anxious to bring suit unless we had to. After a man has practiced law for forty years, he knows there is such a thing as losing a good law suit and a lawyer, when he is not in a measure the client, is not apt to rush into court. Finally, they stated that they were satisfied with the account of the Public Examiner. They said, "We are satisfied that it is correct, but there is one item upon which the state has no claim, and on which the University has no claim amounting to some $300.00." It seems that there had been collected among the students a small amount for some student activity, I don't remember just what it was, and they had left that with Mr. Brenn. The attorney said, "For that we are not liable," and as a legal proposition I knew that was true. So we had a conference in my office one afternoon and they made the definite proposition that they would pay the amount of the shortage less $300.00. They insisted that we should give the Insurance Company and Mr. Brenn an absolute release on the bond in full. Of course, there was no legal objection to that, but I did not feel that the Board of Regents should take that final account, although they would have been perfectly justified in doing it without consulting the County Attorney. So I addressed this communication to the County Attorney. To this day, old Prexy believes that Brenn was robbed, but no member of the Board of Regents shares that belief.

I defy any living human being to say that I directly or indirectly said or did a thing to aid Mr. Brenn in escaping punishment and I will say further that I did everything requested of me to contribute to a fair and full trial of the case. I produced all documents that I had and testified before the Grand Jury and at the trial whenever my presence was asked.

As to the fact that I appeared as attorney of record in the trial of Brenn's case in Minneapolis with Mr. Brady, I will say that there is absolutely nothing to it. It is a falsehood, and if it was said knowingly, it is a lie."

It is only fair to the University to state that since this incident the entire method of accounting has been changed and completely reorganized and we rely upon the statement of the Public Examiner that with the University's present methods of bookkeeping in vogue, he does not think it possible that a thing like that could happen again, without being immediately detected by him.

CONSTRUCTION, REPAIRS AND UTILIZATION OF BUILDINGS.

At the hearing of March 30th, inquiry was made as follows: What part do the regents of the University take in the construction of new buildings? Mr. Hayes made the following reply: "Certain details of the building would have to be given by the man in charge of the department, for instance, in the Electrical Building, Professor Nachtrieb would give the architect of the State Board of Control an idea of the floor space, etc., and after the architect has prepared the plans they are then submitted to the Board of Regents," to which Regent Snyder added the following: "They would be submitted by the Board of Control, the architect would consult the head of the departments about the buildings, and its purposes, so that this building might be constructed to suit the work. That is all the head of the department has to do with it. The plans are approved by the Board of Regents and the State Board of Control advertises for bids and completes their construction." It was disclosed upon further inquiry upon this subject, that no definite plans are made before the regents make their request for a new building and include such request in their budget. A rough estimate is made by the University authorities as to what in their judgment a proper building would cost. The amount is then placed in the budget as a request to the Legislature that the money be provided. This being somewhat in the nature of a guess and the Legislature having another guess coming, furnishes a sum which in their judgment will do the work. If the original request is cut in two the Board of Control in constructing the building has to act accordingly, and the result may be a structure not fully suited to the work for which it was originally intended. Your committee believes that this is a wrong practice not only as connected with the University but with all other public institutions. It seems to be a weakness in the state's method of doing business. We believe that each biennium, before a request for new buildings is made, the Board of Control should go carefully into the details, as to the needs, plans and actual cost of such buildings, and should even go to the extent of submitting bids for the same to the Legislature for their guidance, thus avoiding guesses as to lump sums, by the Legislature when it considers the matter of appropriation. It is true that in case the request for the building is not granted the state would be out the amount necessary for this preliminary expense, but large amounts of money would be saved in the aggregate extending over a series of years, and buildings would be constructed better fitted for the purposes for which they are designed and it would be up to the Board of Control, to construct a building as per the submitted designs and within the appropriation provided.

Repairs.—All minor repairs at the University are made under the supervision of the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. Minor repairs are made by carpenters, plumbers, gas fitters and the like, who are hired by the month for that purpose. More extensive repairs are made as per bids submitted in the same way as in the construction of new buildings.

Utilization.—When questioned upon this point the President made a statement, as follows: "The question of utilization of buildings is a very vexed one. It is not possible to arrange classes so as to utilize all buildings in the afternoon. It is difficult to push utilization up to its theoretical limit. The utilization at Minnesota and Wisconsin is practically the same. As far as recitation rooms are concerned the University is well served and has anticipated somewhat the future needs and prospective growth." Upon further inquiry the President stated, that frequent surveys of the buildings are made looking to the most complete occupancy of the buildings which could be made within the limits of practicability, and stated that owing to prevailing conditions students living a long distance from the University cannot be assembled in toto or even pro rata, during the earlier hours of the day. But speaking generally, classes are pretty well equalized during the several recitation periods of the day. Your committee concluded from this inquiry that no considerable amount of space is unoccupied in the various buildings for any considerable time. In other words we were satisfied that the regents base their requirements for new buildings upon an actual need, and that they do not demand such buildings while the buildings they already have are not well utilized. It is no doubt true that more students could be crowded into the same space and the erection of new buildings could in some cases be postponed, but probably not without doing violence to the maximum of efficiency at the institution.

SALARIES, EMPLOYES, AND HOURS OF LABOR.

The administration spent last year $65,197.40, or an increase over 1913 of $7,099.70. By administration is meant the President's office, the Comptroller's office, the Purchasing Agent and the Storehouse. As to other salaries let it be said that the increase in 1914 over 1913 in the pay-roll amounted to $232,597.62. In 1913 the Board of Regents raised the salaries from money appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose. Said amount was used partly for the adjustment of salaries of those already employed and partly for an increase in the working force, but the fact was also disclosed that during these two years there was an increase in registration of 788. The numerical increase in the teaching force was 64. As a fuller explanation of this subject of increased appropriation for salaries the committee obtained and hereby submits the following schedule:

| | Increased Salaries and Wages. | New Appoint- ments and Increased Wages. |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------|---|
| General University..... | 10,190 | 10,229 |
| Science, Literature and Arts | 12,330 | 12,330 |

Finally with reference to salaries, the question having been raised of so-called double salaries, the following memorandum includes all part time men, individually, with a statement as to the proportional time spent by them at the University and the salary received for such part time service.

A MEMORANDUM CONCERNING UNIVERSITY SALARIES CHARGEABLE TO DIFFERENT APPROPRIATIONS.

1. There are no double salaries.—That is, no member of the faculty is paid for full-time service more than one salary. This may, however, be divided between two or more funds in the same budget or between the budgets of the two state departments.

2. Summer school salaries.—Teachers are paid for the teaching year of between nine and ten months. The fact that salaries are paid in twelve monthly installments instead of nine or ten, impairs in no way the right to use the summer for private study and vacation. All Universities make additional payment for the extra service rendered by faculty members who teach in the summer session.

3. Extension Courses.—Certain members of the faculty from time to time give evening "extension courses," quite outside regular University service hours. For such voluntary teaching, payments are made out of the tuition fees paid by evening students, supplemented in some cases by extension funds.

4. Explanation of Individual Cases Cited.—(1) Solon J. Buck, from November 1, 1914. Total salary at rate of $3000 per year. University, $1000 for one-third of his time. State Historical Society, $2000 for services as Superintendent and Secretary for two-thirds of his time.

(2) Frederick Bass. Total salary (year 1913-14), $5000; for current year (1914-15), $4000. The University pays $2000 for two-thirds of Mr. Bass's time. The State Board $2000 as consulting engineer.

(3) D. D. Lescohier of State Labor Bureau is paid $250 ($50 for 5 months) by the University for giving a course in the second semester on Labor Problems.

(4) Dr. R. H. Mullin. Total salary, $3400. The University pays $1700 for half time and the State Board of Health $1700 for the other half.

(5) A. G. Ruggles. Total salary (year 1913-14), $2500; $1400 from University funds and $1100 from State Entomologist's fund. He was also paid for travelling expenses $179.67 from the State Entomologist's fund.

August 1, 1914, Mr. Ruggles' salary of $2500 was transferred to the University to which he has since given his full time.

(6) O. J. Wenzel was paid $249.42 for salary and expenses for April, May, June and July, 1914. This came from the State Entomologist's fund. Mr. Wenzel was not put on the University pay-roll until August 1, 1914. Since then his services have been given three-fourths to the University and one-fourth to State Entomologist's office, his monthly salary of $44.44 being charged $33.33 to University and $11.11 to State Entomologist.

(7) Wm. Moore. Total salary (last year 1913-14), $1800, divided as follows: $1000 from University, $800 from State Entomologist's fund. He came late and hence did not draw last year a full year's salary. The $678.25 received from the State Fund represents the pro rata proportioned to the time of service.

(8) F. L. Washburn. Total salary, $3200; paid by University. The item of $197.24 paid him last year out of State Entomologist's Fund was for the year's travelling expenses for state work. The $2811.19 in addition, set down under Mr. Washburn's name, was not paid to him at all, but represents the salary and travelling expenses of the Chief Deputy Inspector, July, 1913, to July, 1914.

Inquiry having been made with reference as to the connection of the Carnegie and Rockefeller Foundations with the State University, your committee submits the following information which it thinks should properly be made a part of this report, although not in the direct line of our investigation.

THE CARNEGIE FOUNDATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF TEACHING AND ITS RELATION TO THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA.

Some years ago Mr. Andrew Carnegie, believing that one of the great needs of the college teaching profession was a sense of security for old age, gave five million dollars as an endowment for retiring allowances for professors in certain private universities and colleges. A few years later another five million was added and the leading state universities were included in the plan. The fund has been still further increased in order that the needs of the system now in operation may be met.

Retiring allowances are granted without regard to a professor's personal or private income. The allowances are therefore not a form of charity but are regularly and systematically made to all who comply with the conditions.

A man who has served in an accredited institution twenty-five years as instructor and professor, or fifteen years as a professor may, if completely disabled, be retired on an allowance based upon his salary for the last five years of service, and increased by the number of years of service.

A man who complies with the conditions indicated above may at 65 years of age retire upon an allowance estimated in practically the same way.

In case of a death of a man who is in receipt of a retiring allowance one-half of the allowance is paid to his widow for her life time.

In order that an institution may be eligible for admission to this system two things are necessary:

First. The educational standards of the college or university must come up to a certain minimum.

Second. The institution must not be controlled by any sectarian or ecclesiastical body.

Aside from these two requirements there is absolutely no stipulation or anything which could be construed as an attempt to influence the teachings, spirit or administration of the institution whose faculty members are included in the arrangement.

The University of Minnesota was admitted to this arrangement when state universities were provided for. The Agricultural Department has not yet been included. The Carnegie Foundation is making a study of agricultural colleges before deciding on the conditions under which they are to be admitted to the provisions of the foundation.

At present the following persons, through connection with the University of Minnesota, are receiving retiring allowances:

Lettie M. Crafts.

Henry Turner Eddy.

William W. Folwell.

Arthur E. Haynes. (Died recently.)

Adam C. Hickman.

Cyrus Northrup.

Maria L. Sanford.

Matilda J. C. Wilkin.

Hattie Benton Clark.

Elma Hixon Benton.

John F. Downey.

John G. Moore.

The method of payment is as follows: Each month the Carnegie Foundation sends to the University Comptroller a check covering the monthly allowances to the persons indicated above. This check is deposited in the Contingent Fund and the sums due the different individuals are checked out directly to them. The transaction therefor involves no bookkeeping and is completed every month.

As to the Rockefeller Foundation, Regent B. F. Nelson sent to our committee the following letter with detailed information attached, which we have also made a part of our report.

April 16, 1915.

Honorable Charles L. Sawyer,
House of Representatives,
State Capitol, St. Paul.

My dear Sir:

In the absence of President Snyder I am as Chairman of the Board of Regents of the University replying to the request you made through the University Comptroller for information with regard to President Vincent's connection with the General Education Board of New York.

I am enclosing a memorandum which gives the essential facts with respect to the directorship and the policy of this Board. I am also sending a printed report of the activities of the Board from the beginning of its organization.

With respect to the relation of President Vincent to this General Education Board, I lay before you and your committee the following information.

Before accepting the position as trustee of the General Education Board, Mr. Vincent submitted the proposal to the Board of Regents. After full discussion the Board informally expressed the unanimous opinion that the appointment should be accepted.

The regents believed that the work of the General Education Board, so far from involving duties or obligations which would conflict with Mr. Vincent's position as president, would be of distinct value to him in familiarizing him with educational problems and situations in various parts of the country.

It was further believed that the appointment was a recognition of the University of Minnesota and of the educational interests of the Northwest. The Regents were of the opinion that if through its president the University of Minnesota could be of any service in the councils of the General Education Board the co-operation should be freely given.

The Regents could see no way in which the president of the University, or the University itself, could be in the slightest degree compromised or hampered in the exercise of complete individual and institutional freedom.

It was further felt that the large number of small colleges in the Northwest region, some of which had already received aid from the General Education Board, would not at any rate be injured by having some one from the Northwest as a member of this board.

It is of course understood that Mr. Vincent receives no compensation of any kind for the services that he renders. This service involves attendance upon three stated meetings held during the year in the City of New York. Traveling expenses required for these three trips are paid by the General Education Board and involve no expense to the University. The trips are, however, utilized for a number of purposes useful to the University, as for example, conference with educational experts, meeting candidates for teaching positions, etc.

If you desire any further facts we shall be glad to present them to you.

Yours sincerely,

B. F. Nelson,

Chairman of the Executive Committee.

Abraham Flexner, Educational Expert, of New York.

George E. Vincent, President of University of Minnesota.

Activities of the General Education Board.

The board administers a fund of approximately 34 million dollars, the gift of John D. Rockefeller. The income for the year 1913-14 was approximately two and one-half million dollars. Up to June 30, 1914, from the income from this endowment, appropriations to the amount of nearly sixteen million dollars have been made as follows:

|--|-----------------|
| Colleges and Universities..... | $10,582,591.80 |
| Medical Schools..... | 2,670,874.11 |
| Negro Colleges and Schools..... | 699,781.13 |
| Miscellaneous Schools | 159,991.02 |
| Professors of Secondary Education..... | 242,861.09 |
| Southern Education Board..... | 97,126.23 |
| Rural School Agents (both races)..... | 104,443.18 |
| Farm Demonstration Work—South (including Boys' and Girls' Clubs)..... | 925,750.00 |
| Farm Demonstration Work—Main and New Hampshire (including Boys' and Girls' Clubs) | 50,876.45 |
| Rural Organization Service..... | 37,166.66 |
| Educational Conferences | 18,108.23 |
| Administrative Expenses | 304,794.99 |
| Total..... | $15,894,364.89 |

Gifts to Minnesota Institutions.

Of the appropriations indicated above, the following sums have been subscribed by the General Educational Board to institutions in Minnesota:

|--------------------------|-----------|
| St. Thomas College..... | $ 74,000 |
| Carleton College | 100,000 |
| Hamline University | 50,000 |
| Macalester College | 125,000 |

Policy of the Board.

In making gifts to educational institutions, it is the policy of the board (1) to make gifts conditional upon local sums being raised. Thus gifts of three and one-half million made by the General Education Board to colleges have resulted in supplemental gifts of fifteen million dollars from other sources. (2) It is the policy of the board to select for gifts institutions that offer promise of educational efficiency, irrespective of any other consideration whatever.

The gifts of the board never involve any stipulations which could be construed as affecting academic freedom. The board insists upon competent business management and upon the use of endowment funds strictly and scrupulously for educational purposes.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE WORKING TIME OF THE FACULTY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA.

It should be noted that the average total time devoted to the University work is 54.8 hours per week.

The average time given to class and laboratory, preparation for the class room, correcting papers of students, and interviews with students, amounts to 30.9 hours per week.

The amount of time devoted to administration, research and experiment, extension and miscellaneous activities is 24.9 per week.

It should be borne in mind that except for the amount of time devoted to class and laboratory work which is precisely determined by the schedule, the other portions of time must be approximate rather than precise. No member of the faculty would time himself accurately.

On the whole, however, this statement represents with a very fair degree of precision the amount of time which the average University man is devoting to his University duties.

In this connection it is proper to add that within the time allowed your committee for this investigation it was not found feasible to attempt an exhaustive comparison with other Universities as to the number of its instructors, as California, Illinois and Wisconsin are as nearly on the same basis as any with which we can make a comparison, your committee will state that California has a teaching force of 457, Illinois 643, Wisconsin 523, and Minnesota 459. The latter figure for Minnesota includes all the teachers at Crookston, Morris, the University proper, including the model High School as well as the Extension staff. A part of these instructors are not full time men. All part time instructors reduced to full time men would place the number on the teaching force at 350. This result is reached by the following analysis which furnishes us information not only as to the teaching force but also gives us the existing ratio between teachers and students.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA.

Faculty and students November 1, 1914.

Table IX (Eighteenth Biennial Report of the Board of Regents, page 27) shows that for the year beginning August 1, 1914, there were in all 608 different persons connected in some way with the administration, instruction, and investigation in the various divisions of the University, including University Extension, the agricultural sub-stations and the University High School, the practice school of the College of Education.

In order to find out the actual resident teaching force of the University available for regular resident students it is necessary to deduct from the total of 608 the following: (1) 38 Extension teachers; (2) 12 administrative officers, President, Registrar, Librarian, Superintendents of sub-stations, certain Deans and others who do no teaching; (3) 22 lecturers who deliver a few lectures usually not a part of the required curriculum.

Again the 171 "part time" members and the "69 assistants" must be reduced to a "full time" basis. A careful calculation shows that on the average these persons give one fourth of full time to their teaching. This would reduce the 240 "full time" persons to the equivalent of 60 teachers giving their full time to instruction.

Furthermore, a number of "full time" men are giving part of their time to experimental work in agriculture, in mining, in estimating ore bodies for the tax commission, etc. A deduction would, therefore, be legitimate of this time given to work which has no direct bearing on teaching.

A generous calculation from a careful study of teaching actually going on Nov. 1, 1914, shows that the teaching force at the time was equivalent to 350 persons giving their full time to teaching and to ordinary research (outside of agricultural and mines experimentation and geological survey).

Ratio of Full Time Teachers to Students.

Three hundred and fifty instructors divided into 5233 students gives a ratio of one teacher to fifteen students. Each student registers on the average for five courses so that each teacher on the average has to meet in his classes seventy-five students. This ratio is for the whole institution. There are variations in the different colleges and schools, due to the differences in the character of the work. Owing to the fact that many colleges teach students of other colleges it is difficult to assign a fixed number of students to each college and to determine exactly for each college the ratio or teachers to students. In Science, Literature and Arts it is 1 to 16; in Agriculture somewhat higher.

Employees.—For further and fuller information on this subject a complete schedule by departments of all employees and their salaries will be appended to this report.

EXTENSION WORK.

The extension work of the University may properly be comprised under two sub-divisions, namely: General Extension and Agricultural Extension, including the County Agent work.

General Extension.—General Extension work is under the auspices of the University proper, and comprises Lyceum courses, extension classes conducted in various parts of the state, and correspondence courses. The Lyceum courses are conducted in conjunction with the local combinations of citizens society or club, the purpose being to furnish a series of entertainments for these communities during the winter months. Speaking generally, it may be said that these Lyceum courses are self sustaining, it being the function of the University to furnish the talent for the entertainments on better terms than those on which they could be obtained by the various cities and towns acting independently. Contracts are made in the various localities with interested bodies of persons as above stated for the staging of the course and the guarantee of the expenses is made in the contract. Part of the talent is furnished from the teaching force of the University, but much of it is engaged from outside both of the University and of the state. The University advances the money necessary to inaugurate the courses and in some instances to furnish the talent and when the course is completed the state is reimbursed for the money paid out. Members of our committee have made an inquiry into this special feature of the extension work and find that vouchers for expense were filed in the Auditor's office with no explanation attached as to whether or not the money came back into the State Treasury, as a part of the original University Extension fund. In answer to our inquiry with regard to these vouchers it was ascertained that the Treasurer's office records such reimbursements in lump sums. For an itemized statement of the money coming back into the University funds for this extension work, the books at the University have to be consulted. The committee has not found time to make a business of checking these vouchers and noting the amount which the state received in repayment, but a detailed explanation was submitted to the committee by the Comptroller. Mr. Dealand, a member of our committee, has made a somewhat detailed examination into this phase of the subject, which at the time of writing this report is not fully complete. It is fair to say, however, speaking generally for the committee, that its information is that these courses and entertainments are largely self-sustaining, except perhaps a moderate amount of the overhead charges of the department conducting the same. The committee has heard very little criticism on this general extension work, and it is not in position to judge of the general demand for such work.

In the extension classes a large variety of subjects is offered and credit is given for the work done in the regular University course. When classes are formed in the towns, villages, or cities throughout the state an instructor is furnished to conduct the work and a charge is made to the individual pupil such as to nearly if not entirely to reimburse the University for the work. As the committee understands it, the appropriations made for this work are largely expended for advertising, bulletins, printed, courses, catalogues, etc., together with a portion of overhead expense which it is difficult accurately to figure out.

If it is the purpose of the University to conduct such work off the campus it should only be done when there is a pronounced demand for it and when it can furnish a means of education to those who cannot attend regular classes at the institution itself. The policy of too free extension of this work should not prevail. It is a subject to be handled with great care and discretion and should not embrace instruction in fads, the value of which has not been fully determined.

Agricultural Extension Work comprises as the committee understands, work done by so-called County Agents, farmers institutes, experimental stations, etc. Much criticism has been made of the County Agent plan. Statements have been made that such agents are often inefficient and not fully qualified to do the work for which they are employed. Believing this criticism to have foundation in fact, a special inquiry was made along these lines. We, as a committee, find that there is a great difference of opinion throughout the various counties as to the effectiveness of County Agent work. In places where the agent proved efficient he receives high commendation and is thoroughly appreciated. The criticism made and the discussion entered into upon this subject have been largely included in the stenographic reports of the hearings, copies of which have been placed upon the desks of the members, which if they have read, will furnish more information and form a better basis for a conclusion than anything we might say upon the subject in this report. A number of letters were sent out to individual farmers in the various counties, submitting lists of questions with reference to this subject. The replies cannot be reported herein in full, but we submit answers made especially upon the subject of the source of objection in the various locations. The question referred to was as follows: "What is the cause and source of objection to the County Agent and how are they met?" The committee had no opportunity in the public hearings to hear from those who were satisfied with the county agent plan.

J. W. Noffsinger, Cambell, Wilkin County, answers as follows: "I think no one objects, at least I have not heard of any objections."

C. W. Herman, Fairfax, says in part: "As to a county agent, I firmly believe he is of a lot of good to the county."

M. J. Dowling, Olivia, Renville County, says in answer to the question that the objections come mainly "from people who are not informed": "Some people think the county pays all expenses. The best way to meet objections is to tell the truth and spread it thoroughly."

Otto Mesebring, Cologne, Minnesota, says: "It depends a good deal upon the farmers of the county. If the farmers take hold to find out the cause and work of the county agent, it is a great thing and much good is accomplished and also a great deal depends upon the agent."

A. E. Reetz, Kandiyohi County, says: "The greatest objection is made by the older set of farmers who made good as pioneers and who do not take much stock in new ideas. Our county agent tried to convince some of the doubters with his work but they are hard to convince."

Peter Iverson, Chippewa County, answers as follows: "First—cost. We have farmed this county forty-five years and have made money. Can't show us money—of course he can't. The main objection started from advocating Farmers' Clubs. Equity could not stand it; afraid it would hurt their organization."

Carl M. Johnson, Bigstone County, says: "The only objection comes from some of the old timers that think their methods are all O. K. The up to date farmers are generally in favor of an adviser."

B. H. Smith, Ortonville, Bigstone County, we quote as follows: "It is hard to find a man that farmers will take to and think they can learn anything from. You must have a man who will mix well with farmers and that they will feel has had experience in live stock and in improved farm methods."

C. F. Kirk, Morris, Stevens County, says: "Objections generally come from those who do not know a good thing when they see it and from those who think they know all about farming and can be taught nothing about stock."

Many other replies of a similar nature might be included, but these we believe are sufficient. A question was also submitted as to what had been accomplished by the county agent in various localities. The following farmers reported:

P. R. Clement, Moorhead, Minn., says: "The most important results are the organization of Farmers' Clubs, also aiding the farmers in getting clean and good seed and to raise better and more livestock. The work of the County Agent seems to bring the farmer and business man closer together, and creates more sociability and better feeling among the farmers."

R. C. Pollock, Farmington, Minn., says: "The most direct results so far have been in the treatment of hogs having cholera. He held the first and largest alfalfa campaign ever held in the state, fourteen meetings with an attendance of nearly two thousand. He has started a cow testing association. He has organized five farmers' clubs. He is all ready to help us at our club meetings with advice or a lecture. He is a live wire and worth the money."

C. H. Cooper, Carlos, Minn., says: "Helping the farmers control hog cholera, he also helps in planning new buildings and laying out the farm plots. In case of sickness in your stock, he is always ready to come and do what he can."

J. E. Dedds, Wheaton, Minn., says: "As a helper in country club work, very useful in hog cholera work. Keeps a record of all blooded stock for sale. A general booster for better farming, better homes, better schools and better stock. The work is hard and exacting."

C. R. Lee, Villard, Minn., says: "Fighting hog cholera—work on seed corn, buying breeding stock. To get a county advisor all depends upon the man you get and holds the same as hiring a man for any other place. It is all in the man."

Geo. H. Miller, Ottertail, Minn., says: "Organization of and maintaining of Farmers' Clubs, Breeding Associations, assisting at Farmers' Institutes, helping to combat foul weeds and insects and diseases of animals. He is an inspiration to us to try and do better."

Chas. Wright, Fergus Falls, Minn., says: "Organized Farmers' Clubs, hog cholera control, development of more alert attitude toward farming problems, advice in feeding live stock. Much of the value is in an indirect way and will only gradually become evident."

Nels. Skinnemoen, Wendell, Minn., says: "Raising of more and better corn, getting serum for hog cholera, learning farmers about bad weeds, giving plans for barns and poultry houses, how to get good stock and many other things."

O. W. Jones, Herman, Minn., says: "The increase of the yield of corn, introduction of alfalfa of which this county has a good acreage, keeping in check hog cholera, educating the young how to destroy weeds, and above all else, the organization of country clubs which is a great benefit to the country homes." The committee has in its possession a great many more testimonials along the same lines but the foregoing number is deemed sufficient to give an idea of their general trend."

It must not be inferred that there is universal satisfaction with the county agent. The experiment is somewhat new and in certain localities there is considerable opposition. The law provides that the University is not to furnish county agents unless the county commissioners make a request and unless one thousand dollars is appropriated available for the fiscal year and one thousand promised for the succeeding year, but in case the counties do not see fit to make an appropriation the agents may be furnished if an association of farmers or city or village clubs are willing to furnish the money which would otherwise be furnished by the county commissioners. But in no case is an agent appointed unless an amount is pledged in the county equal to one half his salary for two years. This committee advises great caution in the extension of this work, especially in localities where a pronounced demand is not made. It should never press this work upon districts where the farmers do not desire it. Criticism is made that in some instances these agents have mixed somewhat in local politics, and that they have in this way made themselves somewhat offensive. No evidence was submitted to the committee bearing out this contention except on the part of some who appeared before our committee and whose charges were based mostly upon hearsay, but the very suggestion that the criticism exists should provoke great caution on the part of the University authorities for the good of the institution and its work. No agent should be sent out except those who have had experience and show themselves well qualified for the work—better send no agent at all than to send an incompetent man. This we believe should be strictly adhered to. Substations should not be carelessly or indifferently farmed. The University Farm School should have nothing to do with cultivating a tract of land unless it is done well. If it is not a success it is an injury to the institution, as it will be constantly used as an example to prove its inefficiency. Conflicts between local sentiments and University policy with reference to substations or any part of the work should be reconciled if possible by a more thorough knowledge and a better understanding between them. No dogmatic county agents should be allowed to enter upon the work.

With reference to Farmer's Institutes the committee has not much evidence before it, except that submitted by the University authorities including a copy of the Minnesota Farmer's Institute Annual, published in 1913. This publication seems to us to be full of valuable information upon a large variety of subjects germane to the farming industry. It has the appearance of being valuable and we learn from those who ought to know that it is read with a great deal of interest in all farming communities. There are evidences of the discussion of this subject in the stenographic reports circulated through the House and hereinbefore referred to. We, therefore, do not think it is best to discuss it further in this report. Some evidence was presented of a conflict or mis-understanding existing between the County Agents and the American Society of Equity. We believe, however, that this has arisen in most cases through a misunderstanding rather than through any intention to antagonize that society. If any such contention had existed it is wrong as it could not fail to injure the effectiveness of the County Agents' work and indirectly the University itself. The same statement should be made as between the County Agent and any other organization of village or rural people as friction always causes a loss of energy, if not a serious impairment of the work.

A. D. Wilson, Professor, and Director of the Agricultural Extension Work, says as to the scope and purposes of his work that "for several years the Agricultural Extension division has been giving assistance wherever possible to co-operative associations in the state, and has helped with the organization of elevators, creameries and especially of live stock shipping associations." He further says that his purpose has been wholly for co-operation and wholly against any sort of antagonism and that if any antagonism exists between his work and that of the Farmers' clubs, and the Farmers' Institutes throughout the state, he is not informed of it and deeply regrets it if it does so exist. This is as far as the Committee feels it is warranted in going into this subject in this necessarily curtailed report. Our word of caution has been spoken and we recommend this subject as one to handle with great care and upon which Mr. Wilson and his associates should, we believe, devote not only their best energies if it is to be continued, but to give it the results of their best and most careful thought.

Summing up very briefly the results of our investigation the committee desires to say that as to the social and moral conditions existing in the institution our investigation was very incomplete as we could not for lack of time enter upon that broad subject. We did learn, however, that various Christian organizations exist at the University which are conducted under the auspices of the students. Provision has been made for the holding of meetings in some of the buildings when not occupied for other purposes. No evidence was presented to the committee of any gross immorality or any prevailing practice which is likely to be destructive. The committee was informed that it was the policy of the President and his associates to discourage too great social activities which might cause neglect of University work on the part of the students.

A statement was made before our committee in reference to sororities and fraternities; that these organizations were open to inspection by the University authorities and that many members of the faculty are honorary members and exert a salutary influence on the present active membership of the same. At some future time we would recommend a more thorough investigation of this phase of college life and if evils do exist, further and more decisive efforts should be made to eradicate them.

As a finale to this report your committee is of the opinion that a further too rapid growth of the University and a further too broad extension of its activities should be guarded against. We believe that bone and sinew should be developed and a hardening process be experienced before further expansion is thought of. If quality and quantity can exist together at the same time both are good, but when quantity and quality are to be considered together, quality is first to be sought. The spirit of the last decade has been to revolutionize education in the belief that the former methods and former subjects of instruction were obsolete and impractical. There is danger, however, of losing sight of culture and cultural studies whose use is largely for the development of the mind and whose final purpose is other than that of accumulating money for the purpose of spending it. We may be going too far in that direction. It may be that within the next decade we may be giving instructions upon a subject called "every day life," including in it every trade and occupation, that human ingenuity can devise, leaving nothing for the individual to work out for himself independently. We believe that when the individual element of independence is lost sight of and the value of individual experience is placed at a minimum, real progress will cease. The University must work out its own problem but it must take care that its efforts and energies are devoted to the building of men and women first and directing their energies towards trades and occupations last. That criticisms exist against the University, there is no doubt, a statement which can be against each and every state institution. It is probably true that the greatest efficiency is not exercised in all of its departments and it is equally true of all public institutions of which we have any knowledge. The committee recommends rigid economy limited only by an injury to efficiency. Undue extravagance is sure to cause a revulsion of feeling and prejudice against this or any other institution where it exists. To thrive and perform its full functions it must have the sympathy and support of all classes and individuals which it is attempting to serve. It must treat the poor as considerably as the rich and more so. Every practice and custom that tends towards caste and away from democracy should be trodden under its feet. It must learn its own weaknesses and exert its best efforts to reform them, tolerant with bigotry with a desire to spread light. Not self satisfied but the reverse. Not attempting to dictate but to lead. It must keep far away from politics and in its own sphere, if its mission in the state is in the broadest sense to be fulfilled.

Your committee believes that it should be the policy of the University to discourage outside employment for remuneration. Such a practice has a tendency to create impression that the employees of the institution are receiving extra remuneration and possibly at a sacrifice of their efficiency at the institution.

In conclusion the committee wishes to express its satisfaction at the courtesy and forbearance shown by the University authorities in connection with this inquiry. They have at all times freely furnished information required by the committee without hesitancy and with no effort to conceal the sources of information which we have desired.

For lack of time we have in some instances been obliged to ask the University to furnish us with written information which they have promptly and cheerfully done. We think the institution is in charge of a very devoted and businesslike Board of Regents and we cannot say too much as to the efficiency of its President, and we feel also that he is supported by an efficient force of instructors. Much progress has been made within the last few years, not only as to increase in numbers but as to efficiency, and the committee confidently expects that as time passes new reforms will be inaugurated and greater efficiency gradually obtained. We believe the institution is one of which the state may be justly proud. If it has failings, it must correct them. With a diligent eye and a constant purpose on the part of its management to attain to better things we have the highest hopes for the future dignity and prosperity of the institution.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
St. Paul, Minn., April 19, 1915.

Hon. H. H. Flowers,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sir: I am returning to the House of Representatives,

H. F. No. 831, A bill for an act authorizing the licensing of certain persons as veterinarians without examination.

Without my approval.

Every graduate of a reputable and regularly organized veterinary college requiring a course of not less than three sessions of six months each is entitled to examination by the State Veterinary Examining Board upon payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars. The Board is required by law to issue a license to every such applicant who, upon examination, is found to be qualified to engage in veterinary work in this state.

The bill herewith returned provides that certain persons not graduates of reputable veterinary colleges, shall be licensed to engage in veterinary work without examination and without payment of fee. It is clearly legislation in the interest of a few individuals and a complete repudiation of the safeguards which have for many years prevented unqualified persons from practicing as veterinarians in this state.

For these reasons I think the legislation objectionable and respectfully return it to the House.

Very respectfully yours,

WINFIELD S. HAMMOND,
Governor.

Whereas, The general index to bills of the Senate and of the House as heretofore printed in the permanent Journal of the Senate covers over one hundred and sixty pages thereof, more than half of which space is required by reason of printing in full the lengthy titles of bills; and

Whereas, The utility of such index will not be impaired, but probably enhanced, if the titles are very materially reduced—sufficient words being used to fully identify the bills—and in that way reducing fully 50 per cent the cost of printing that feature of the permanent Journal; now, therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Clerk of the House is authorized and directed, when arranging and preparing copy for the Journal index, to reduce and condense titles wherever the same can be done without impairing the usefulness of such index.

Whereas, Every member of this House is conscious of the fact that he owes a debt of gratitude to our able, efficient and honorable Chief Clerk, Mr. Oscar Arneson, who has filled his exacting position with energy, intelligence, patience and success, and

Whereas, Mr. Arneson has not only met the demands of his official position with ability, but has also in his personal relations with the members of this House been of inestimable service to all members, and

Whereas his genial nature, kindly disposition, cheery habit and his constant willingness to be of help to the members has made him the personal friend of every member, and has added to his official distinction the higher distinction of true human comradeship, and

Whereas, The new members of this House, forced to depend to a large degree upon assistance, have found in Mr. Arneson at all times “a right-hand bower” who, with patience and kindness steered them amidst the rocky points of legislative experience safely and pleasantly, and

Whereas, In the stormiest moments of our legislative history, during the momentous session of 1915, the Chief Clerk has always remained unshaken and unruffled by the tempests of debate and confusion, always showing a smiling countenance and encouraging others to follow his example; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives do hereby express officially their high sense of appreciation and their feeling of respect and honor and affection for Mr. Arneson, and that they tender to him their sincerest thanks for his services both official and personal, and express the hope that his life may always be as rich in friendship as it has been in this session, and that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the House and published in the Journal.

Mr. Adams then presented to Hon. A. F. Teigen, the member from Chippewa, in behalf of the members of the House, a copy of the "Orations of the Other Great Orators of the World," with the following address:

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House:

As time recedes the sessions chase one another into eternity. When the hands of yonder clock point twelve our legislative careers will end. We shall gather up our waste-baskets, our unpassed bills, our blasted hopes, our broken pledges and wend our way down Wabasha Street to the Union station. The managers of moving picture shows, the sellers of blue sky, the dealers in Copenhagen snuff, the peddlers of patent medicines and murderers in the first degree, will ignore us as we pass. There is no one more pitiable than a member of the Legislature after it has adjourned. This arena which has resounded with the shrieks of the dead and dying and cries of "rotten decision" will become as silent as the tomb, which it has been for so many great measures. Those Talismanic words "Efficiency and Economy" with which we were wont to lure the voter at the polls will be forgotten. There is one regret as we depart—one duty unperformed. It was believed by the ancients that if the body was not interred and the last sad rites performed, the unhappy soul of the departed would wander ceaselessly through time. If this belief be true we must all regret the unhappy fate of House File No. 25, "the measure of paramount importance," which lies unburied on the table, and if it has a soul, its spirit is doomed to wander throughout all the ad interim from "Whereas to Therefore." But, alas, it is too late.

When you have returned to your homes and I to mine, and the business men have weighed us in their fee-tested scales they will surely find us wanting. But out of all this wreckage one reputation has been made which stands out resplendent, triumphant, enduring as the stars of the firmament, and the great Edisonian circle which has cast its halo around it. Shakespeare has said that some men are born great, some are Chairmen of Special Committees, others achieve greatness through their powers of oratory. Greece had her Demosthenes and Pericles; Rome, her Cicero; England, her Burke, but Minnesota has her Teigen. Through all the ages no power has been so great in legislation as that of eloquence, lofty, continuous, impassioned. In recognition of the splendid eloquence of the gentleman from Chippewa and of his services as the champion of the producing classes, the great farmers of the state, ignored and down-trodden, by you men of the cities, in all seriousness, Gentlemen of this House, as a slight token of our esteem and appreciation of the pleasure which he has given us, I am delegated in these few words to present him this volume, containing the orations of the other great orators of the world. It is our expectation that after he has studied and assimilated them, he will return at the next session better equipped than ever to lay before the legislative body the great fundamentals and basic principles, which underly the consumer, the producer and the middleman. But even though an ungrateful constituency should fail to return him, in behalf of his fellow members, I want to assure him that his eloquence has impregnated the Corridors of Time and will go reverberating through the vistas of the ages. His words have burned themselves into the Adamant of Eternity, where they will endure long after the grain business of the northwest has been transferred to St. Paul, and that great gambling hall, the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, has perished from the earth.

Mr. Bendixen moved that the Adams address be printed in the Journal for the day.

Which motion prevailed.
